

AN ALL STORY

Recalled by the Death of Horatio N. Clark
In New York.

HE WAS ONCE A PRISONER OF WAR

At Andersonville, Where He Is Alleged to Have Discovered Providential Spring. A Chapter Recalled.

In the tragic death of Horatio N. Clark, in the state of New York last Tuesday, the story of prison life at Andersonville, during the war, is recalled.

Mr. Clark is the man who is said to have discovered the spring, at a time of drought, in the Andersonville prison yard, and which is still pointed out in that locality.

On account of the scarcity of water at that time, the discovery was regarded as providential and the name of "Providential Spring" was imparted to the new fountain which it still retains.

The following telegram announces the death of Mr. Clark:

"Amsterdam, N. Y.—Horatio N. Clark, of Akin, was killed yesterday on the West Shore crossing at Auriesville. Mr. Clark was sixty-five years of age. During the war, while a prisoner at Andersonville, one morning he took a walk about the prison pen, while his comrades were asleep, and to his surprise and delight discovered a stream of water, clear and cold, gushing from the ground where there had never been water before. The spring was named 'Providential Spring.'"

Prior to his death Mr. Clark made a number of trips to Georgia and visited the scene of his incarceration.

For a number of years the attitude of the confederate government with reference to the prisoners at Andersonville was grossly misrepresented.

It was charged by the northern press that a cruel disregard of the lives and well-being of the prisoners characterized the conduct of the officers in charge of that prison. Facts were distorted and the sufferings of the prisoners magnified in such a way as to bring the truth of the matter before the uninitiated public.

This cruel misrepresentation did more to widen the breach between the two sections after the war than any other argument employed.

As a matter of fact the treatment of the prisoners at Andersonville was characterized by the most humane consideration.

The location, in the first place, was the best in the confederacy. It was in the midst of a grain-producing area, and the sanitary regulations were prescribed in due form, and these were disregarded by the prisoners of war, and the subsequent charges which were made against the prisoners were due to the conduct of those incarcerated.

It may be shown that the government of the United States was in a large measure responsible for the situation at Andersonville.

According to the rules adopted for the exchange of prisoners it was the duty of the government to restore to the prisoners at the south by restoring an equal or corresponding number of southern prisoners at the north.

Instead of this, however, and in spite of the sufferings of their men, due to the impoverished condition of the south, they refused to reclaim their prisoners, and thus allowed them to endure the hardships of prolonged incarceration.

Acting under the direction of the secretary of war, and seeing plainly that there was no hope for any general system of exchange, the commissioner in charge of the prison offered to deliver to the federal agent all the sick and wounded federal prisoners on hand, without insisting upon the delivery of an equivalent number of southern prisoners in return. No advantage, however, was taken of this humane proposition, and the federal government, with every means of providing for them at hand, is chargeable with having ignored this particular, the common dictates of humanity.

General Hill's Great Speech.

The speech of Mr. Hill, delivered in the national house of representatives in 1876, effectively put a stop to all of the slanders circulated against the south growing out of the treatment of prisoners at Andersonville.

He had just entered congress and the speech was really his maiden effort.

Mr. Blaine had delivered his great speech the day before and had used the same language at his command in speaking of the prison. Said he:

"I now assert deliberately before God, as my judge, knowing the full measure and import of my words, that the cruelties of the duke of Alva, in the low countries, the massacre of St. Bartholomew and the screws and tortures of the Spanish Inquisition did not approach in cruelty the atrocity of Andersonville."

This was severe language, as bitter as it was undeserved.

Mr. Hill, who had been a member of the confederate congress and who was familiar with the situation, was selected by his colleagues to make a reply.

There was considerable uneasiness on the part of the friends of Mr. Hill, for they recognized in Mr. Blaine a man of singular power and ability. He had been the speaker of the house in the preceding congress and was the acknowledged leader of the republican party.

When Mr. Hill arose, however, and began his speech all of this uneasiness was dispelled. He was cool and self-possessed, and seemed to grow in stature as he warmed in speech and the fervor of his oratory. He vindicated the southern people and charged the federal government with the burden of the responsibility. Medicine had been made a contraband of war by the action of the government and this was directly the cause of many deaths throughout the prisons of the south. He charged the government with a failure to redeem the prisoners of war, and taking up the figure of Mr. Blaine, declared that such atrocity was unknown even to the duke of Alva. He closed in an eloquent appeal for broader and higher patriotism and the speech was pronounced the greatest delivered in the house of representatives since the war.

On the strength of this speech Mr. Hill was sent to the senate of the United States and there he died.

Mr. Blaine, since that time, has also passed away, and now the death of Mr. Clark adds new interest to the tragic story. The attitude of the south, with reference to the prisoners at Andersonville, is now universally recognized.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

Manager Herbert Matthews, of the Edgewood Avenue theater, is back from New York and is up to his head in work in preparing for the summer opera season. Mr. Thomas H. Pratt, who will be associated with Mr. Matthews in the management, came with him. Mr. Pratt is a well-known time been manager of Agnes Huntington and other operatic stars.

"I think it will be the best summer season of opera any city of the south has ever had," said Mr. Matthews last evening. "I want to New York just at the right time."

NO COKEYISM HERE.

Senator Gordon Calls Attention to Its Absence in the South.
MAN IS TAUGHT SELF RELIANCE.

The Southern People Do Not Look to the Government for Aid, But Provide for Themselves.

Washington, May 10.—Mr. Harris, president pro tem, occupied the chair today in the absence of the vice president at Frankfort.

A bill to repeal the act of July 1, 1882, "to regulate the use of the capitol grounds," the law under which Coxey and his subordinates were recently arrested, tried and sentenced, was introduced by Mr. Allen, populist, of Nebraska, and referred to the judiciary committee.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Peffer and went over till tomorrow providing for a select committee of three to consider the Coxey case, and to report with special reference to the prevailing business depression and the large number of unemployed people and to report what legislation is necessary to afford relief.

Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, offered an amendment to that clause of the minority report under discussion, which added: "Discourage any paper which the conference may deem detrimental to the connectional organ."

Another flood-tide of argument was let loose upon the amendments. Dr. Hoss thought non-connectional papers were trespassers on the territory of connectional papers, and that it was not fair or just competition.

Dr. Richardson thought it was preposterous to attempt to muzzle the press. He wanted to have free and just competition. Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, was encouraging of non-connectional papers.

Dr. Sullivan, of Mississippi, favored the fostering of conference organs. Judge Perkins, of Texas, made a speech on the subject of the freedom of the press, and said the speaker: "has not the church any freedom? The free press is the battle-cry of infidelity."

Judge Parker strongly favored the passage of the minority report. A motion for the call of the previous question was made and carried.

Dr. Brown, chairman of the committee on publishing, introduced a speech in favor of fostering conference papers. The substitute was put to a vote and carried.

On motion of Dr. Tigert the report was adopted as a whole.

BISHOP CAPERS TO HIS CHURCH.
In His Annual Address He Points to a Steady Growth.

Columbia, S. C., May 10.—(Special.)—In the diocesan convention of South Carolina today Bishop Capers delivered his annual address. He stated in his visitation he had confirmed 504 white persons and forty-eight colored.

He reported that with the aid of the board of missions the church could not have accomplished what it has done. Notwithstanding the financial stringency the people have met their obligations nobly. During the year there have been no deaths among the clergy. Bishop Capers spoke most feelingly of the death of Bishop Alexander Gregg, of North Carolina, and a former South Carolinian, who found but six clergymen in the vast state when he went there, but who lived to see it have two bishops and thousands of communicants.

After a spirited debate the convention by a vote of forty to twenty-three determined to admit Dr. Campbell and Mr. Traylor, of St. Paul, and St. Michael's parish, Charleston.

The estrangement of these two gentlemen grew out of the color question which agitated the diocese several years ago. The action of the convention today probably marks the end of that controversy.

Dallas Crowded with Baptists.
Dallas, Tex., May 10.—Today the first of the delegates to the annual convention of the Southern Baptist convention, the largest denominational conference ever held, are arriving. The promise of many of the delegates lead the belief that many more are coming.

Dr. D. C. Williams, of Dallas, a former pastor and orator will make the opening address. The convention will be one of illuminated interest, as its elements have touched the lives of the people in the history of the church. A friend of Captain Martin, in this city expresses doubt about his being a strong administration man. He would make a strong race on the democratic platform.

A Natural Curiosity.
Brundage, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. John Vendick has a natural curiosity in the shape of a live chicken with four legs, which was named the new chicken, and was on Midland avenue, last Monday. On the right side just back of the point of the business on the edge of the back yard, a less part of a leg grows horizontally from a little bump representing the lower part of the thigh. The bird is a very fine specimen, grows out from just in front of the thigh, and projects forward at a considerable angle. Both are well developed, with the exception that the legs are all right and it uses them as vigorously as any chicken it has ever seen. As the bird is healthy and sprightly as any bird, and bids fair to grow into a very fine specimen, it is a very interesting curiosity.

They Don't Want Any Allens.
Sheffield, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—A lot of dirty, hungry-looking Italians and Hungarians passed through the city yesterday en route to Riverport, to take the places of the Americans employed on the government work on Colbert avenue. The government is paying well for this work, and the importation of a lot of aliens to displace some workmen, merely for the sake of a few dollars, is regarded here as an outrage. Cheap foreign labor has been the curse of the country. If the men now live here and contribute to the support of the country, they will be a vigorous political element.

The Decatur-Moulton Damaged Line.
Moulton, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The projected plan of constructing and equipping a steam dummy line from Decatur to Moulton is now attracting attention in the local circles. The manifest practicability of this proposed line, and the advantages which it will command, to make it safe and profitable investment, commend this scheme at once to the consideration of those wishing judicious investment for unemployed capital.

This line is about twenty-three miles in length, and for more than three-fourths of the entire distance very easy of construction, traversing a level country where but little grading will be required. Just what the movement on foot is cannot be learned, but it is believed to be substantial for the line. That very responsible men are behind it.

Short Items from Alabama.
Huntsville, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The Huntsville Rifles, which have recently been organized, have elected the following officers: John H. Shaffer, captain; J. R. Wynne, Jr., 1st. Lieut. and S. S. Pleasant, lieutenants.

Montgomery, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. Patrick Cummings, foreman of a construction gang on the Mobile and Birmingham road was found dead in bed at Mt. Vernon today. Heart disease was the trouble.

Birmingham, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The historic Round Mountain furnace has passed into the possession of a new company called the Round Mountain Furnace Company, with headquarters at Chhattanooga. The furnace, who has been connected with iron interests in the south for many years, is president.

MRS. LEASE FOR CONGRESS.
Kansas Populists Willing for Her to Succeed Jerry Simpson.

Topeka, Kan., May 9.—There was talk here today of putting Mrs. Lease in nomination for congressman at large, but the populist leaders do not want to turn down

NO COKEYISM HERE.

Senator Gordon Calls Attention to Its Absence in the South.
MAN IS TAUGHT SELF RELIANCE.

The Southern People Do Not Look to the Government for Aid, But Provide for Themselves.

Washington, May 10.—Mr. Harris, president pro tem, occupied the chair today in the absence of the vice president at Frankfort.

A bill to repeal the act of July 1, 1882, "to regulate the use of the capitol grounds," the law under which Coxey and his subordinates were recently arrested, tried and sentenced, was introduced by Mr. Allen, populist, of Nebraska, and referred to the judiciary committee.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Peffer and went over till tomorrow providing for a select committee of three to consider the Coxey case, and to report with special reference to the prevailing business depression and the large number of unemployed people and to report what legislation is necessary to afford relief.

Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, offered an amendment to that clause of the minority report under discussion, which added: "Discourage any paper which the conference may deem detrimental to the connectional organ."

Another flood-tide of argument was let loose upon the amendments. Dr. Hoss thought non-connectional papers were trespassers on the territory of connectional papers, and that it was not fair or just competition.

Dr. Richardson thought it was preposterous to attempt to muzzle the press. He wanted to have free and just competition. Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, was encouraging of non-connectional papers.

Dr. Sullivan, of Mississippi, favored the fostering of conference organs. Judge Perkins, of Texas, made a speech on the subject of the freedom of the press, and said the speaker: "has not the church any freedom? The free press is the battle-cry of infidelity."

Judge Parker strongly favored the passage of the minority report. A motion for the call of the previous question was made and carried.

Dr. Brown, chairman of the committee on publishing, introduced a speech in favor of fostering conference papers. The substitute was put to a vote and carried.

On motion of Dr. Tigert the report was adopted as a whole.

BISHOP CAPERS TO HIS CHURCH.
In His Annual Address He Points to a Steady Growth.

Columbia, S. C., May 10.—(Special.)—In the diocesan convention of South Carolina today Bishop Capers delivered his annual address. He stated in his visitation he had confirmed 504 white persons and forty-eight colored.

He reported that with the aid of the board of missions the church could not have accomplished what it has done. Notwithstanding the financial stringency the people have met their obligations nobly. During the year there have been no deaths among the clergy. Bishop Capers spoke most feelingly of the death of Bishop Alexander Gregg, of North Carolina, and a former South Carolinian, who found but six clergymen in the vast state when he went there, but who lived to see it have two bishops and thousands of communicants.

After a spirited debate the convention by a vote of forty to twenty-three determined to admit Dr. Campbell and Mr. Traylor, of St. Paul, and St. Michael's parish, Charleston.

The estrangement of these two gentlemen grew out of the color question which agitated the diocese several years ago. The action of the convention today probably marks the end of that controversy.

Dallas Crowded with Baptists.
Dallas, Tex., May 10.—Today the first of the delegates to the annual convention of the Southern Baptist convention, the largest denominational conference ever held, are arriving. The promise of many of the delegates lead the belief that many more are coming.

Dr. D. C. Williams, of Dallas, a former pastor and orator will make the opening address. The convention will be one of illuminated interest, as its elements have touched the lives of the people in the history of the church. A friend of Captain Martin, in this city expresses doubt about his being a strong administration man. He would make a strong race on the democratic platform.

A Natural Curiosity.
Brundage, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. John Vendick has a natural curiosity in the shape of a live chicken with four legs, which was named the new chicken, and was on Midland avenue, last Monday. On the right side just back of the point of the business on the edge of the back yard, a less part of a leg grows horizontally from a little bump representing the lower part of the thigh. The bird is a very fine specimen, grows out from just in front of the thigh, and projects forward at a considerable angle. Both are well developed, with the exception that the legs are all right and it uses them as vigorously as any chicken it has ever seen. As the bird is healthy and sprightly as any bird, and bids fair to grow into a very fine specimen, it is a very interesting curiosity.

They Don't Want Any Allens.
Sheffield, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—A lot of dirty, hungry-looking Italians and Hungarians passed through the city yesterday en route to Riverport, to take the places of the Americans employed on the government work on Colbert avenue. The government is paying well for this work, and the importation of a lot of aliens to displace some workmen, merely for the sake of a few dollars, is regarded here as an outrage. Cheap foreign labor has been the curse of the country. If the men now live here and contribute to the support of the country, they will be a vigorous political element.

The Decatur-Moulton Damaged Line.
Moulton, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The projected plan of constructing and equipping a steam dummy line from Decatur to Moulton is now attracting attention in the local circles. The manifest practicability of this proposed line, and the advantages which it will command, to make it safe and profitable investment, commend this scheme at once to the consideration of those wishing judicious investment for unemployed capital.

This line is about twenty-three miles in length, and for more than three-fourths of the entire distance very easy of construction, traversing a level country where but little grading will be required. Just what the movement on foot is cannot be learned, but it is believed to be substantial for the line. That very responsible men are behind it.

Short Items from Alabama.
Huntsville, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The Huntsville Rifles, which have recently been organized, have elected the following officers: John H. Shaffer, captain; J. R. Wynne, Jr., 1st. Lieut. and S. S. Pleasant, lieutenants.

Montgomery, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. Patrick Cummings, foreman of a construction gang on the Mobile and Birmingham road was found dead in bed at Mt. Vernon today. Heart disease was the trouble.

Birmingham, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The historic Round Mountain furnace has passed into the possession of a new company called the Round Mountain Furnace Company, with headquarters at Chhattanooga. The furnace, who has been connected with iron interests in the south for many years, is president.

MRS. LEASE FOR CONGRESS.
Kansas Populists Willing for Her to Succeed Jerry Simpson.

Topeka, Kan., May 9.—There was talk here today of putting Mrs. Lease in nomination for congressman at large, but the populist leaders do not want to turn down correspondence offered a resolution to the effect that a delegate be sent from the general conference meeting at the First Methodist church to the colored general conference meeting now in session in this city. This was put to a vote and carried. The committee on the Barnes hospital offered their report, in which they highly commended the philanthropic spirit and Christened the charity of Mr. Barnes, who gave $1,000.00 to the southern Methodist church for the location of a hospital for all persons without distinction of creed. The report was unanimously adopted.

Dr. Yaley, of North Carolina, moved that the report of the special commission appointed by the general conference, which met at St. Louis in 1880, to revise chapters VIII and IX, be referred to a special committee of seven with instructions to revise and report. Adopted.

Dr. Andrew offered a resolution to the effect that any member wishing to offer an amendment to the report of the commission should hand it into the committee of seven just appointed. Carried.

The report of the committee on publishing interests recommended the discouraging of any paper which had a tendency to do away with the connectional papers. Dr. Hill spoke at some length, explaining how Texas Methodists had a contract to further the interests of connectional papers only. He thought this to be right.

Dr. Smith thought that a person should be allowed to read whatever paper they thought best.

Several speeches favoring the making of the clause a connectional order followed. Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, offered an amendment to that clause of the minority report under discussion, which added: "Discourage any paper which the conference may deem detrimental to the connectional organ."

Another flood-tide of argument was let loose upon the amendments. Dr. Hoss thought non-connectional papers were trespassers on the territory of connectional papers, and that it was not fair or just competition.

Dr. Richardson thought it was preposterous to attempt to muzzle the press. He wanted to have free and just competition. Dr. E. D. Edwards, of Virginia, was encouraging of non-connectional papers.

Dr. Sullivan, of Mississippi, favored the fostering of conference organs. Judge Perkins, of Texas, made a speech on the subject of the freedom of the press, and said the speaker: "has not the church any freedom? The free press is the battle-cry of infidelity."

Judge Parker strongly favored the passage of the minority report. A motion for the call of the previous question was made and carried.

Dr. Brown, chairman of the committee on publishing, introduced a speech in favor of fostering conference papers. The substitute was put to a vote and carried.

On motion of Dr. Tigert the report was adopted as a whole.

BISHOP CAPERS TO HIS CHURCH.
In His Annual Address He Points to a Steady Growth.

Columbia, S. C., May 10.—(Special.)—In the diocesan convention of South Carolina today Bishop Capers delivered his annual address. He stated in his visitation he had confirmed 504 white persons and forty-eight colored.

He reported that with the aid of the board of missions the church could not have accomplished what it has done. Notwithstanding the financial stringency the people have met their obligations nobly. During the year there have been no deaths among the clergy. Bishop Capers spoke most feelingly of the death of Bishop Alexander Gregg, of North Carolina, and a former South Carolinian, who found but six clergymen in the vast state when he went there, but who lived to see it have two bishops and thousands of communicants.

After a spirited debate the convention by a vote of forty to twenty-three determined to admit Dr. Campbell and Mr. Traylor, of St. Paul, and St. Michael's parish, Charleston.

The estrangement of these two gentlemen grew out of the color question which agitated the diocese several years ago. The action of the convention today probably marks the end of that controversy.

Dallas Crowded with Baptists.
Dallas, Tex., May 10.—Today the first of the delegates to the annual convention of the Southern Baptist convention, the largest denominational conference ever held, are arriving. The promise of many of the delegates lead the belief that many more are coming.

Dr. D. C. Williams, of Dallas, a former pastor and orator will make the opening address. The convention will be one of illuminated interest, as its elements have touched the lives of the people in the history of the church. A friend of Captain Martin, in this city expresses doubt about his being a strong administration man. He would make a strong race on the democratic platform.

A Natural Curiosity.
Brundage, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. John Vendick has a natural curiosity in the shape of a live chicken with four legs, which was named the new chicken, and was on Midland avenue, last Monday. On the right side just back of the point of the business on the edge of the back yard, a less part of a leg grows horizontally from a little bump representing the lower part of the thigh. The bird is a very fine specimen, grows out from just in front of the thigh, and projects forward at a considerable angle. Both are well developed, with the exception that the legs are all right and it uses them as vigorously as any chicken it has ever seen. As the bird is healthy and sprightly as any bird, and bids fair to grow into a very fine specimen, it is a very interesting curiosity.

They Don't Want Any Allens.
Sheffield, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—A lot of dirty, hungry-looking Italians and Hungarians passed through the city yesterday en route to Riverport, to take the places of the Americans employed on the government work on Colbert avenue. The government is paying well for this work, and the importation of a lot of aliens to displace some workmen, merely for the sake of a few dollars, is regarded here as an outrage. Cheap foreign labor has been the curse of the country. If the men now live here and contribute to the support of the country, they will be a vigorous political element.

The Decatur-Moulton Damaged Line.
Moulton, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The projected plan of constructing and equipping a steam dummy line from Decatur to Moulton is now attracting attention in the local circles. The manifest practicability of this proposed line, and the advantages which it will command, to make it safe and profitable investment, commend this scheme at once to the consideration of those wishing judicious investment for unemployed capital.

This line is about twenty-three miles in length, and for more than three-fourths of the entire distance very easy of construction, traversing a level country where but little grading will be required. Just what the movement on foot is cannot be learned, but it is believed to be substantial for the line. That very responsible men are behind it.

Short Items from Alabama.
Huntsville, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The Huntsville Rifles, which have recently been organized, have elected the following officers: John H. Shaffer, captain; J. R. Wynne, Jr., 1st. Lieut. and S. S. Pleasant, lieutenants.

Montgomery, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. Patrick Cummings, foreman of a construction gang on the Mobile and Birmingham road was found dead in bed at Mt. Vernon today. Heart disease was the trouble.

Birmingham, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The historic Round Mountain furnace has passed into the possession of a new company called the Round Mountain Furnace Company, with headquarters at Chhattanooga. The furnace, who has been connected with iron interests in the south for many years, is president.

MRS. LEASE FOR CONGRESS.
Kansas Populists Willing for Her to Succeed Jerry Simpson.

Topeka, Kan., May 9.—There was talk here today of putting Mrs. Lease in nomination for congressman at large, but the populist leaders do not want to turn down

WE SHOULD SET A HEN . . .

You can't expect a hen to have a burning thirst for hatching all year around. If you're attracted toward shoes, go at it when you can. If it strikes you that a single concern selling shoes exclusively for seventeen years ought to do you good, that's a sign that the hen is to set. Make her a nest, we'll furnish the eggs, and she'll hatch you new.

We like to write ad's—it's our weakness.

MACO
The Receipts
Compensation
JUDGE SP
Bondholders
Date for the Negro
Macon, Ga.
lication in that the M pany had temporary and regret, is that the
and the co
stead of th courts. The named Unit temporary time of th manent ha changed the pointed Mr ceiver. Mr shall be o zons and There wa of the com
committee bondholders
pare a tal difficulties recognized to the corp resolutions no scaling one of the meeting th
ney for co
Resolved
Gaighat ar resented in than four consolidat report of has been a do, the ar
ative to th action in ers they in tervention
the same tion of th
Resolved
and other quested resented of the com
ney for co
The me day at th holders.
This me quest over radio, and might find in his en his depu following speedy man; Van verdict and thac ord, and from the officers of duty, an officers man; Van Doctor
a post that the made by and pass remains per row

Footcoveers to All Mankind, 27 Whitehall Street, Telephone

YVYAN GRAY'S TRAMP.

Walking from Boston to Monterey, Mex., and Return Without Money. Newark, O., May 6.—Yvyan Gray, the British journalist from The London Daily Telegraph, and his running mate, Horace Weir, who are walking across the continent from Boston, Mass., to Monterey, Mexico, and return, dead broke, spent the night at this city and resumed their journey this morning. They expect to reach Columbus, O., tonight and Cincinnati during the week.

At the latter place Gray will attempt to work his passage on a river boat down the Mississippi to New Orleans. There he will take a sea-going vessel in the same way, and landing in Galveston, Tex., make his way on foot to Corpus Christi and Monterey. In the latter town he has a brother in business, and after a short rest he will start on his return. The terms of his wanderer since to work his way or walk the entire distance twice, make $5,000 during the trip. He started from Liverpool, England, in January last, and by the terms of the wager, he must again show up in Liverpool March 19, 1895.

Two bets were made in the London Press Association rooms on the outcome of the trip. Each for £1,000, and one is made by Mr. Levy, the proprietor of The Daily Mail. He will endeavor to make the $5,000 by lecturing on the return trip, and this morning expressed the belief that it would be the easiest part of the programme to perform.

A newspaper representative this morning left the hotel with him and took him to the old earthworks, just southwest of the city, which he viewed with interest.

Gray is a pleasant talker, of easy address and good manners. He carries a log-book, and following the railroads he asks every telegraph operator, station agent or postmaster to sign up that he may prove to his superiors that he has actually made the trip, as stipulated. He was royally entertained by the Press Club of Pittsburgh, Pa., and stops at every newspaper office en route.

The name Yvyan Gray is a nom de plume, and he refuses to give his right name. He expects to call on Governor McKinley tomorrow.

Colonel Martin Is Handicapped.
Montgomery, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—The Blockton Courier is authority for the statement that Colonel John M. Martin, of the Birmingham bar, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress from the ninth district. It is stated that the colonel is in favor of the Cleveland-Sherman financial policy, and will, therefore, run as an administration candidate. Colonel Martin already represented his district once before in the halls of congress and there is no doubt but that he is one of the truest and best men in the ninth district, but it is an acknowledged fact up there that nobody can get the nomination for congress who enters the race handicapped with the weight of the national administration. A friend of Captain Martin, in this city expresses doubt about his being a strong administration man. He would make a strong race on the democratic platform.

A Natural Curiosity.
Brundage, Ala., May 9.—(Special.)—Mr. John Vendick has a natural curiosity in the shape of a live chicken with four legs, which was named the new chicken, and was on Midland avenue, last Monday. On the right side just back of the point of the business on the edge of the back yard, a less part of a leg grows horizontally from a little bump representing the lower part of the thigh. The bird is a very fine specimen, grows out from just in front of the

MACON SURPRISED.

The Receivership for the Gas Light Company Was Not Expected.

JUDGE SPEER CHANGES RECEIVERS.

Bondholders Desire Reorganization—The Date for the Hearing is Changed—Two Negroes Do Each Other Up.

Macon, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—The publication in The Constitution this morning that the Macon Gaslight and Water Company had been placed in the hands of a temporary receiver created great surprise and regret, and the wish of the entire city is that the bill and receiver be dismissed and the company be allowed to settle its matters by process of reorganization, instead of by expensive litigation in the courts. The order of Judge Speer last night named United States Marshal Leverett as temporary receiver, and May 15th as the time for hearing the question of a permanent receiver. Today Judge Speer changed the hearing to May 18th and appointed Mr. T. D. Tinsley temporary receiver. Mr. Tinsley gave a bond of $5,000. He is one of Macon's most popular citizens and successful business men.

There was a meeting of the bondholders of the company this afternoon at which the committee which was appointed at the bondholders' meeting last Tuesday to prepare a plan of adjustment of the company's difficulties submitted its plan, and it was recognized at once as not only being just to the corporation itself, but to every creditor of the corporation. This plan contemplates no scaling of the principal, and no scaling of interest, save a slight one on one of the junior series of the bonds. The meeting this afternoon was held at the office of the Southern Railroad Company. After the report of the committee had been received and there had been a full discussion of the same the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the plan of adjustment of the Macon Gaslight and Water Company bonds, as presented in this meeting, aggregating more than four-fifths of the first, second and consolidated bonds, approve generally the report of the said committee, and that they do, the arrangement of further details relative to the floating debt, etc., and the said bondholders further agree that until further action is had by the said committee, they individually will not proceed by intervention in the pending suit, not deeming the same necessary for the present protection of their interests.

"Resolved, further, That all bondholders and other creditors of the company are requested to unite with the bondholders represented in this meeting in the adjustment of the company's affairs upon a basis which shall be just to all and preserve the property in the interest of creditors as well as of the public."

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday at 12 o'clock, when further action will be taken to perfect the plan of the bondholders.

The Coroner's Inquest.
This morning Coroner Hodnett held an inquest over the remains of the negro desperado, Jim Knight, who died at the jail last night from the effects of wounds received in his encounter with Sheriff Westcott and his deputies. The jury was composed of the following well-known citizens: George W. Morgan, foreman; W. B. Chapman, George Schall, J. Van, J. T. Moore and A. T. Parrott. Their verdict was, as follows: "We, the jury, find that the deceased, James Knight, colored, came to his death by gunshot wounds from the hands of Sheriff Westcott and officers of the law in full discharge of their duty, and in our opinion the sheriff and his officers are justifiable, and we exonerate them from all blame."

Doctors J. C. Johnson and Wortham made a post mortem examination and decided that the wounds that Knight received were made by two bullets that entered between the second and third ribs of the right side and passed through the bowels. Knight's remains were buried this afternoon in pauper row at the expense of the county.

A New Scheme.
It has been suggested, and the suggestion may materialize, that the Macon public library be put under charge of the board of public school education of Bibb county. The financial affairs of the library have been rather meager for several years, and it has required considerable effort to keep the institution alive. The library occupies a very handsome home of its own on Mulberry street, and should be better sustained under the energetic management of the present officers and directors the library has done better than for some time past.

Some Court Matters.
In the superior court today the second verdict was granted to plaintiff in the divorce suit of Callie Briggs vs. W. J. Briggs. The jury refused to give a verdict of divorce to the husband. The jury was out on the case about two hours. Moses Coleman, colored, was found guilty of burglary, sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years. Several other cases of minor importance were tried. In the United States court Judge Speer heard a number of interventions and passed some orders.

A Big Case.
It is probable that next week the appeal case of the Macon Construction Company will be argued before the supreme court of Georgia. It will be remembered that some time ago the Macon Construction Company, of Baltimore, trustee for the bondholders, foreclosed the mortgage on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, and the property was ordered sold. The Macon Construction Company, however, gave notice of appeal, and consequently the sale was not taken place. Ex-State Attorney General Clifford Anderson is leading attorney for the Macon Construction Company. This company was capitalized at $500,000 and constructed the Georgia Southern railroad. The company collapsed when the Georgia Southern road was placed in the hands of a receiver. The $500,000 of stock at present has practically no value, and, of course, will be forever lost if the Georgia Southern is sold at a sacrifice. There are about $3,500,000 of bonded indebtedness. The stock is worth at least $1,500,000 above its bonded indebtedness. If sold in piecemeal times, and not when the financial world is depressed the property will bring at least $5,000,000, which will pay the bonded indebtedness and the floating indebtedness, which is small, and there will be a good balance to pay the Macon Construction Company and make its stock quite valuable. The entire question of the validity of the bonds will be argued before the supreme court.

A Detective's Fine Work.
St. Basch, the well-known Central railway detective, is justly regarded as one of the finest officers in his line of business in the state. He has just captured a notorious thief. A few days ago an agent of the road at a small station between Macon and Savannah reported that a night or two ago a negro man entered the depot and asked for the ticket to the next station. The agent got it and as he was in the act of handing it to him he was startled to find a pistol pointed into his face by the negro, who demanded that he give him all the money he had. The agent handed him the money, and the negro then left. Detective Basch thought the story "fishy," and he commenced an investigation, which resulted in the agent admitting that the alleged occurrence had never happened, and for certain reasons he desired the money to be reported as disappearing in the manner which he represented. The road will have another agent at that station tomorrow.

Best Daily Damaged.
This afternoon two negroes named Sam Sledge and Bob Harris, had a difficulty in Stinsonville, a few miles from Macon. Sledge is a man forty years old and Harris is about eighteen. Harris struck Sledge on the head with a stick. Sledge went to his house, got a pistol and shot Harris in the right breast. The ball has not yet been found. The wound is considered dangerous, perhaps fatal. Sheriff Westcott was notified and he sent Deputy Constables Rufus and Millington to arrest Sledge. They found him at a doctor's having the wound in his head dressed. He surrendered to the officers without resistance and was put in jail. He claims to have acted in self defense, and says Harris tried to cut him with a razor.

EVANS IN MONROE.

The General Makes a Telling Speech.

The County All Right.

Forsyth, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—This has been a gala day in Forsyth county.

People from all sections of this and adjoining counties assembled here to hear General Evans speak. He arrived on the 10 o'clock train this morning, and was met by a large crowd of representatives of the county. He was accompanied by the Barnwell band to the courthouse square, where his enthusiastic admirers warmly greeted him, and as everywhere else, many ladies were present to hear him.

General G. J. Wright, in his beautiful introduction, gave the young village politicians several heavy raps, and they squirmed under his scathing rebuke for allowing politics to warp their better judgments. General Evans made one of his usual calm and dignified addresses. He entered into no vituperation, but grandly and eloquently discussed the issues of the day. He expressed much regret at having to even suggest the idea of a defense of the confederate sentiment, but that this had been made necessary by the attacks of the opposition. He characterized some of the statements that are being made against him as false and base misrepresentations. He reviewed his record as a legislator before the war and showed clearly that he was right upon the issues of that time and was in full accord with such men as Stephen D. Lee and John B. Gordon. He created much laughter when he said that he tried in his speeches to use all the letters in the alphabet and not give preference to the letter L.

In this connection he said that after a certain candidate delivered a speech in Schley county, a gentleman asked an old negro who heard the speech, what he thought about it, and the old negro replied: "Well, baw, he was a light good speech, but he do seem to me as he leaned a little too much to hisself."

This brought down the house, so to speak. The audience caught on to the application of the word "baw" to the speaker, and began to cheer for the people for unity and money and his peroration was sublime. He was immediately surrounded by young and old, including all the ladies.

Monroe county will certainly send an Evans delegation to the convention.

THOMAS ACTS JUNE 10TH.

The County Executive Committee Calls a Mass Meeting.

Thomasville, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—The democratic executive committee of Thomas county met in this city today. They called a meeting for June 15th to select or provide for the selection of delegates to the gubernatorial, senatorial and congressional conventions.

The political pot has begun to simmer. H. W. Hopkins, now mayor of Thomasville, is in the field for the legislature. He is strong, both in the city and county, and will be elected. A. Roddenberry, Jr., will probably run again, and be elected. J. L. Hall, the other member of the house, will retire voluntarily. The rotation system will give the senator to Colquitt county, and J. B. Norman is the most prominent candidate.

The chief interest will be over the congressional race. Ben Russell, a member, will be in the field and make a formidable competitor. Captain Jesse Walters, of Albany is a candidate also. He will be hard to down. James Gary, of Terrell, may also run, and if he does he can make things warm for his opponents. Colonel R. L. Mitchell, of this city, could win if he would turn himself loose and stir up the county. Captain William Hamilton, of this city, may be heard from. He led a forlorn hope in the last election and carried his man to victory. If Ben Russell can get the nomination, the county seems to be for Evans, but the people have little enthusiasm, and a little thing may carry the county for Atkinson.

Parish Bryant, who killed Jim Bob Isham at McDonald, is in this county today.

CARROLL FOR EVANS.

The County Promises to Go Overwhelmingly for the General.

Carrollton, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—As the day for the primary approaches for Carroll county the followers of General Evans are becoming enthused over the prospects of his carrying the county.

In the past week when a crowd of county people were seen together some one would approach and poll them on the gubernatorial question. It has been very rare to find even an Atkinson man in the crowd.

Today an Atkinson man met three Evans supporters and they got into a discussion over the strength of the two men in this county, when the Atkinson man said that he remained in the same spot fifteen minutes that there would be more Atkinson men to come in than Evans supporters. He said that he would walk in, one at a time, and every one was in favor of Evans. The crowd finally stood fifteen to one.

In one settlement near Carrollton there are eighteen Evans votes and not a single Atkinson man in sight.

Out of the fifteen districts in Carroll county Evans will carry ten with a good majority, and they are the best districts in the county. Wherever the third party is strong it is a strong Atkinson spot. In Carrollton alone Atkinson will not receive over twenty votes in the primary, and there are more than 500 voters in the precinct.

MADISON POLLED.

General Evans Has a Good Majority of the Democrats.

Madison, Ga., May 9.—(Special.)—A canvass of the city of Madison shows that 125 of the white voters are for General Clement A. Evans for governor and 72 for Hon. W. Y. Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson's friends claim that the majority of the colored voters have boldly said that this precinct would go for Atkinson, and that Morgan would be elected.

The Madison Baseball Club will cross bats with the university team next Saturday. A special train will be run from Athens and bring over a large number of students and citizens to witness the game. The Madison boys are in excellent trim. Madison claims the best amateur club in the state.

A tent meeting is in progress in this city. Rev. Mr. R. McCarthy, Rev. A. A. Jamison and Rev. Richard Harwell are assisting Rev. Allen C. Thomas.

HARD FEELINGS IN CHATHAM.

The Political Clubs Are Stirring Up Strife Among Friends.

Savannah, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—The registration commission received in regular form today the charges preferred by the club against the registration of W. McIntyre, and set tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock as the hour for the hearing. The charges are rather serious, and that he removed a certain book from the county tax collector's office, and that he used the said book for partisan purposes. The bitterness between the two factions in county politics has made the case one of wide-spread interest.

Drowned While Bathing.

Carrollton, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—Little Tom Marchman, the ten-year-old son of Mr. W. B. Marchman, of this city, was drowned this afternoon about 1 o'clock. The drowning was near the Kingsbridge bridge, about half a mile from town. He was in bathing with other boys. He could not swim and getting over his head, his companions could not save him.

All in a Tremble!

Nervous, elderly ladies use this phrase to describe their tremors, and highly gratified to be so described by Hostetter's Stomach. The bitter tonic, which is a tonic for the nerves, and tone is what the nerves require if they are weak. Hostetter's Stomach is a remedy for nervousness, biliousness and malaria.

COULD NOT HOLD HIM.

Judge Crovatt Walks Out of the City Council.

THE MAYOR HAS HIM ARRESTED.

But the Quorum Was Broken and Business Had to Stop—The People Are Wrought Up Over It.

Brunswick, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—An exciting scene occurred in the council meeting last night between Mayor Dunwoody and Alderman Crovatt. It resulted in Mayor Dunwoody having Alderman Crovatt arrested. An interesting sequel is likely to develop. The events leading to the unusual proceeding date back several weeks, when Alderman Crovatt was elected to fill his place Alderman Crovatt, DuBignon, Colson and Joergel voted for W. E. Burbage, Mayor Dunwoody and Alderman Downing, Lane and Mason voting for D. D. Atkinson. The sentiment was against Burbage, owing to numerous legal complications in which he is involved with the city on account of contracts he holds as president of the light and water company.

Alderman Joergel being out of the city last night, Alderman Crovatt, DuBignon and Colson remained away to prevent their candidate from being defeated. No quorum being present, Mayor Dunwoody requested the assistant marshal, Levison, to urge Alderman Crovatt to meet with the council to make a quorum to pass upon certain important matters involving Brunswick's financial credit. The mayor embodied in his speech a resolution that the council should be held until a quorum was present, and that he would not be forced to vote on aldermanic matters. Crovatt came down after the opening of council, moved that the regular order of business be suspended and that the important of the city last night, Alderman Crovatt, DuBignon and Colson remained away to prevent their candidate from being defeated. No quorum being present, Mayor Dunwoody requested the assistant marshal, Levison, to urge Alderman Crovatt to meet with the council to make a quorum to pass upon certain important matters involving Brunswick's financial credit.

The council meeting was held until a quorum was present, and that he would not be forced to vote on aldermanic matters. Crovatt came down after the opening of council, moved that the regular order of business be suspended and that the important of the city last night, Alderman Crovatt, DuBignon and Colson remained away to prevent their candidate from being defeated. No quorum being present, Mayor Dunwoody requested the assistant marshal, Levison, to urge Alderman Crovatt to meet with the council to make a quorum to pass upon certain important matters involving Brunswick's financial credit.

A scuffle ensued between Levison and Crovatt, when the assistant marshal, Levison, threatened to arrest Crovatt. Crovatt refused to yield and was urged by the city attorney, Whitfield, to return to the hall. Crovatt returned and again stated he would not participate in the council meeting, and was again refused an excuse. He started off and again Dunwoody ordered him brought into council.

Today street rumors speak of an indignation meeting to be held at the city hall, to impeach of City Attorney Whitfield and Assistant Marshal Levison for their action last night. Attorney Whitfield says his advice to Crovatt and Levison was correct, and that he did not intend to interfere with their action. Levison reported to Dunwoody Attorney Whitfield's words, when Dunwoody ordered Crovatt brought into council. He has refused to accept of Levison's advice to assist him. Crovatt returned to the door and absolutely refused to accede to the demand. Then Alderman Lane, seeing trouble imminent, moved that Crovatt be excused, which was carried. Both sides claim a victory, both having obtained their point.

Today the meeting which adjourned last night was held and a tie for alderman resulted. Burbage and Atkinson's names were withdrawn. Resolutions were passed to investigate last night's actions and a committee was appointed to place the blame the right shoulders.

Today street rumors speak of an indignation meeting to be held at the city hall, to impeach of City Attorney Whitfield and Assistant Marshal Levison for their action last night. Attorney Whitfield says his advice to Crovatt and Levison was correct, and that he did not intend to interfere with their action. Levison reported to Dunwoody Attorney Whitfield's words, when Dunwoody ordered Crovatt brought into council. He has refused to accept of Levison's advice to assist him. Crovatt returned to the door and absolutely refused to accede to the demand. Then Alderman Lane, seeing trouble imminent, moved that Crovatt be excused, which was carried. Both sides claim a victory, both having obtained their point.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

Goins Has Better Luck on His Second Trial—Averill Off for Europe.

Augusta, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—In the superior court this afternoon Henry Goins was convicted of the murder of his own child. This time the jury recommended him to the mercy of the court and Judge Roney sentenced him to the penitentiary for life.

Mrs. Grove Flood was granted a total divorce from her husband, French S. Flood, this afternoon.

Colonel J. H. Averill, of the Port Royal railroad, sailed for Liverpool. He has gone to England on important business in connection with the railroad which is in his custody. Port Royal has been doing a large amount of business, and his imports have not kept up with his exports. This has been embarrassing in securing a regular line of steamships for the trade. Steamers out from Port Royal have been compelled to bring back cargoes to the port of Savannah.

In Carrollton alone Atkinson will not receive over twenty votes in the primary, and there are more than 500 voters in the precinct.

MADISON POLLED.

General Evans Has a Good Majority of the Democrats.

Madison, Ga., May 9.—(Special.)—A canvass of the city of Madison shows that 125 of the white voters are for General Clement A. Evans for governor and 72 for Hon. W. Y. Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson's friends claim that the majority of the colored voters have boldly said that this precinct would go for Atkinson, and that Morgan would be elected.

The Madison Baseball Club will cross bats with the university team next Saturday. A special train will be run from Athens and bring over a large number of students and citizens to witness the game. The Madison boys are in excellent trim. Madison claims the best amateur club in the state.

A tent meeting is in progress in this city. Rev. Mr. R. McCarthy, Rev. A. A. Jamison and Rev. Richard Harwell are assisting Rev. Allen C. Thomas.

HARD FEELINGS IN CHATHAM.

The Political Clubs Are Stirring Up Strife Among Friends.

Savannah, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—The registration commission received in regular form today the charges preferred by the club against the registration of W. McIntyre, and set tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock as the hour for the hearing. The charges are rather serious, and that he removed a certain book from the county tax collector's office, and that he used the said book for partisan purposes. The bitterness between the two factions in county politics has made the case one of wide-spread interest.

Drowned While Bathing.

Carrollton, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—Little Tom Marchman, the ten-year-old son of Mr. W. B. Marchman, of this city, was drowned this afternoon about 1 o'clock. The drowning was near the Kingsbridge bridge, about half a mile from town. He was in bathing with other boys. He could not swim and getting over his head, his companions could not save him.

All in a Tremble!

Nervous, elderly ladies use this phrase to describe their tremors, and highly gratified to be so described by Hostetter's Stomach. The bitter tonic, which is a tonic for the nerves, and tone is what the nerves require if they are weak. Hostetter's Stomach is a remedy for nervousness, biliousness and malaria.

DOES TEA CAUSE INSANITY?

In Ireland Excessive Use Has Been Followed by Harmful Results.

London, May 10.—A report upon insanity in Ireland, which has just been issued, enumerates, among the causes of mental failure, the innutritious dietary of the poorer population, tending to produce anaemia and constitutional weakness, which favor the development of scrofulous and neurotic diseases, and the immoderate use of certain nervous stimulants, particularly tea and tobacco.

"While the moderate use of properly prepared tea," the report adds, "is regarded an innocuous, or even beneficial, in its action on the nervous system, its ill effects when decocted or over-infused on persons who make it their staple article of diet are dwelt on by almost all the resident medical superintendents in their several reports. Undoubtedly, the method of preparation adopted and the excessive use of this article of diet, now so general among the poorer population, tends to the production of dyspepsia, which in its turn leads to a general morbid depression, highly favorable to the production of various forms of neurotic disturbance.

The excessive use of tobacco, also, especially among the young, whether by smoking or chewing, in the opinion of certain of our medical superintendents, acts though perhaps in a minor degree, injuriously on the nervous system. In many parts of Ireland it has been found that bread and tea have been substituted for porridge and milk, and for potatoes also; that the tea is generally of an inferior quality and the method of preparation is to put a quantity in the teapot early in the morning and allow it to stew during the day, water being added as required.

LAST NIGHT'S CARNIVAL.

The Entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Was Largely Attended.

The carnival of song at the Young Men's Christian Association building last night was a brilliant success.

Professor Burbank gave the large audience which filled the concert hall a delightful entertainment.

It was, indeed, a carnival and every selection was a gem. There was not an Atlantic in the audience whose heart did not beat with pride and admiration as the melody of the occasion melted into the ears of the assembled crowd.

The proceeds of the entertainment were divided between the Atlanta Choral Union and the Young Men's Christian Association.

THE EVOLUTION.

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating to the past the use of opium, and vegetable extracts to the rear, and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company only. For sale by all leading druggists.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Clearance Sale

OF

SHOES.

We have many shoes, single pairs of a kind that we have placed on racks in our store and marked at prices to sell them. If you can find your size and what you want, you can certainly save money, as many shoes are marked at

Less Than One-Half

Former Price.

This list includes ladies' and children's button and lace shoes, Oxford Ties of all kinds, house slippers, and in fact all kinds of shoes. We mean this for a clearance sale, one that will rid us of shoes that are all right, only single pairs of a kind. Our regular stock is almost complete in reasonable footwear.

In cheap and medium priced shoes at moderate figures we are ahead of any competitor. See our windows and notice the prices, all in plain figures and at prices that will sell them.

M. L. LAMBERT,

82 Whitehall Street. 82

300 Fine Men's Suits, worth $12.50

to $16.50, at $9.90, at 3 Whitehall St.

PERSONAL.

A WIFE WANTED—Between the age of forty and fifty years old, a lady that's been married, and has a good character, information, address Tennessee P. O. box 71, Washington county, Georgia.

PASTURES—The best care taken of horses and cows. Animals sent for and delivered to owners free of charge. Cheap. Address Calhoun Farm, Wallace, Ga. May 10—1894.

NOTICE is hereby given that we have applied to the city council for wholesale liquor license at No. 13 North Forsyth street. William Weiss & Co., may 10—1894.

CASH paid for old gold and silver. Julius R. Watts & Co., Jewelers, 31 Whitehall.

MARRIED LADIES, for absolute safety and health use the Gem. New invention. Bend 10 cents. Ladies' Novelty Company, Kansas City, Mo., may 10—1894.

WHEN IN BUFFALO stop at the Genesee; Niagara Falls forty miles away.

FOR RENT—Cottages, Houses, Etc. FOR RENT—Two pool tables and two billiard tables, latest style, medium size, light color, complete, with cues, balls, racks and chairs. Manufactured by R. Rothchild's Sons Co., Cincinnati, and in use only a short while. These tables are in excellent condition and will be sold at a great sacrifice. Address Acme Brewing Company, Macon, Ga., may 11—1894.

TO LET—In New York for the summer months a beautiful, fine second apartment in the new apartment house, 12 West Sixty-ninth street. Very accessible to all cars, and elevated railroads. Convenient to park. Twenty dollars per month. Address "Lamb."

Furnished Rooms. FOR RENT—One or two connecting front rooms, hot and cold baths, at No. 11 Cone street, one block from postoffice. Prices moderate.

WANTED—Board. WANTED—Room and board by man and wife; private family preferred. Address stating terms. A. L. Lock box 316.

LOST. $10 REWARD for return of Monarch bicycle, No. 249, stolen from W. D. Alexander, 69 North Pryor street, May 11—1894.

WANTED—Horse and buggy. WANTED—A pair of 1000 pound roller scales. Address 21 Marietta street.

WANTED—To rent a number one milch cow. Apply at Room 9, Gate City Bank building.

FOR EXCHANGE. FARM OR VILLAGE property in exchange for $1,500 cottage in Macon. Address, Atlanta, care Constitution.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of city tax collector, election to take place December 31st next. I respectfully solicit the support of my friends and the public generally, and promise if elected a faithful performance of duty.

ED. T. PAYNE. Ho! Traveler, take Beecham's PINKETTES.

VERY CHEAP. To New York, Boston, Philadelphia Via Central railroad. Savannah, thence by finest coastwise passenger steamers flying the American flag. Tickets include meals and staterooms. Apply to Sam Webb, traveling passenger agent, No. 15 Wall st., Atlanta, Ga., may 11—1894.

Sailing Away,

both of them for pleasure,— with the chances for safety in favor of the washboard wears board. In fact, there isn't much chance for safety until it's gone. If you don't want your clothes rubbed to pieces—throw it away. Use Pearline. That washes without harm. The washboard wears out while it's getting things clean. It's rub and wear without Pearline. It's hard work, too. Pearline takes away the rubbing and the work. No use for either, it takes away the dirt easily, quickly, cheaply.

880 JAMES PYLE, New York.

HELP WANTED—Male.

WANTED—50 Salesmen. Apply at once, Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., 88 Whitehall.

WANTED—One hundred colored men and boys between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning, at 291 Marietta street.

HELP WANTED—Sewing machine salesmen, clothing store, good Georgia town, good salary paid; enclose stamp for reply. Address Good Chance, care Constitution.

WANTED—50 Salesmen. Apply at once, Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., 88 Whitehall.

WANTED—First-class carriage trimmer. Brummel & Keefer, Anniston, Ala.

SALESMEN WANTED, or have the side line. Bouquet Cigar Company, Lynchburg, Va., April 13—1894.

WE WILL start you in a pleasant, profitable and permanent business; can be done at your own home; $50 a week easily made; the connecting material condensed for popular reading. It will be the most valuable and entertaining war history ever printed, all the incidents of the war being arranged in chronological order, enriched with a marvelous wealth of illustrations—portraits, battle scenes, maps, etc. Written by the MEN TO SELL BAKING POWDER—Ready employment, experience unnecessary. $75 salary or commission. U. S. Chemical Works, 440 Van Buren, Chicago, April 13—1894.

HELP WANTED—Female. WANTED—A good white cook for the Jennie D. Innan orphanage. Applicant will call and see Mrs. Dr. J. D. Turner, president, No. 50 Cone street, between 8 and 10 o'clock a

THE CONSTITUTION.

PUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAY, WEEKLY.

The Daily, per year, . . . . . $5.00
 The Sunday (20 to 25 pages), . . . . . $2.00
 The Daily and Sunday, per year, . . . . . $7.00
 The Weekly, per year, . . . . . $1.00
 All editions sent postpaid to any address.
 At these reduced rates all subscriptions must be paid in advance.

Contributors must keep copies of articles. We do not undertake to return rejected MSS., and will do so under no circumstances unless accompanied by return postage.

12 CENTS PER WEEK.

For The Daily Constitution, or 50 cents per week for calendar month. Sixteen cents per week for The Daily and Sunday Constitution, or 7 cents per calendar month; delivered to any address by carrier in the city of Atlanta. Send in your name at once.

Where to Find The Constitution.
 The Constitution can be found on sale as follows:
 WASHINGTON—Metropolitan Hotel.
 JACKSONVILLE—H. Drew & Bro.
 CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley, 125 Vine St.
 NEW YORK—Brentano's, 124 Fifth Avenue.
 Fifth Avenue Hotel news stand.
 CHICAGO—P. O. News Company, 91 Adams Street; Great Northern Hotel; McDonald & Co., 55 Washington St.
 KANSAS CITY—W. A. Rode, 618 Main St.
 SAN FRANCISCO—R. C. Wilbur.

10 PAGES.

ATLANTA, GA., May 11, 1894.

The People Want Primaries.
 The democrats of Georgia continue to protest against the snap-shot mass meeting system.

This method is not popular with the people. In the old days they have seen it tested and they are seeing it tested now.

A primary, on the other hand, gives the people a fair showing. It occupies several hours, or an entire day, and voters at a distance can consult their own convenience, instead of being forced to attend a mass meeting at a certain hour or miss it altogether. A mass meeting may be called at an inconvenient time and place, and perhaps one hundred and fifty or even fifty citizens will meet and hurriedly carry out the will of one or two leaders in the county, and then adjourn, leaving one or two thousand or more voters unrepresented.

The democrats of the state have become accustomed to the primary plan during the past few years and it suits them. It is fair, satisfactory and thoroughly democratic. We should adopt this year in every county where there is a contest, and if for no other reason we should adopt it because the democratic ticket will have to encounter opposition this fall. The opponents of the democracy in this campaign will be better organized and better off than they have been in many years, and the democrats cannot afford to go into the fight with dissatisfaction and dissension in their ranks. In order to win we must satisfy the democratic masses, give them a fair chance to express their wishes, and when those wishes are ascertained we must carry them out.

Let us have no snap-shot methods. The primary is the thing!

The East and the West.

The report of the comptroller of the currency for 1893 gives some very significant figures.

The total sum deposited in the savings banks of the country last year was $1,785,150,957. There are 1,639 savings banks and 4,830,559 depositors, with an average for each depositor of $369.55.

The west cuts a poor figure in the report, and the south is not in it. New York and Massachusetts have more than one-half of the money deposited and more than one-half of the number of depositors. New York has 1,503,804 and Massachusetts 1,180,926 depositors. The aggregate of the deposits in the New York savings banks was $629,358,274, and in Massachusetts $393,119,262.

While the poor people and middle classes concentrate their wealth in the eastern savings banks, the national banks keep pace with them, and of the 4,054 families who own $12,400,000,000, one-fifth of the wealth of the country, an average of over $3,000,000 for each family, nine-tenths reside in the east.

Turning from the land of congested wealth to the west we see very different conditions. The Springfield Republican says:

"A prominent western manager," quoted by The New York Journal of Commerce, writes home to his company a gloomy view of the situation in that quarter. With the exception of pork, the principal products of the farmer have declined 50 per cent in price in the last ten years (an extreme statement), and the productivity per acre has materially decreased in the same time. On the other hand, there has been hardly any reduction in the prices of food or clothing and none at all in fuel, at the places where the farmer buys. This is his claim; and he concludes that "whatever private charity the cause in other countries of financial depression, it was a necessary consequence in the western states, where the producing capacity of the land has been decreasing, and a 50 per cent decrease has taken place in the value of the products, and where towns have been boomed and built seemingly in the expectation that there was no limit to the resources of the farmer."

The general truthfulness of this statement is not to be disputed, and hence we can credit him with some degree of accuracy when he says that "rich farmers are men of today idle in the west," that "a spirit of turbulence prevails," that farmers, seeing the fortunes which are made by what they get for their products and what the consumer pays for them, are manifesting strong socialist tendencies, and are for free silver almost to a man; while railroad men are moved to strike against wage reductions by the sight of inside rings of managers reaping rich harvests out of the road and its owners by various swindling devices. He says private charity is about exhausted in caring for those out of work and unless a change for the better comes before the summer is over there must be trouble in that section. And so "thinking men are of the opinion that the country is on the verge of a crisis," etc., in the relations of labor and capital.

The Republican thinks that there can be no great revival of industry until the farmers get better prices for their products, and suggests that nothing is to be gained by sticking to the high tariff system. Our contemporary does not go far enough. The western farmers, "who are for free silver almost to a man," have a clear understanding of the situation. They know that the contraction of the currency caused by the demonetization of silver has lowered the prices of their products, and they know that better prices will not rule until we have a more abundant supply of currency. They stand with their democratic brethren of the south and demand the redemption of the pledge of financial relief in the Chicago platform. Until this is accomplished the west will be at the mercy of the east, and the south will find her progress hampered by similar conditions, although she is immeasurably better off than the west.

A Question of Infallibility.

It has come to that pass with the cuckoos who are anxious to make a favorable impression on their bosses in Washington that whenever a democratic convention declares its confidence in Mr. Cleveland's honesty and integrity, this fact carries with it an endorsement of the refusal of the president to sanction the redemption of the financial pledge of the Chicago platform.

This has come to be an everyday occurrence now, so that those who have nothing but cuckoo literature dished out to them must presently come to the belief that the democrats have concluded to abandon their principles so far as the money question is concerned and leave the matter to be disposed of by Lombard and Wall Street.

But the Richmond county resolutions express the convictions of nine-tenths of the democratic voters of the south. They draw the line strongly between the honesty and integrity of Mr. Cleveland and the error of judgment he makes in refusing to sanction any law that will lift or relieve the pressure brought on by the gold standard. Honesty and integrity are desirable qualities, and no democrat has any right to say that the president lacks either; but a man of the highest honor and integrity may make an error of judgment. The cheapest and easiest form of this kind of error comes into play when a man of honor and integrity sets his judgment against that of a majority of the people. Neither the president nor the warmest partisan of his strange financial views, has any right to maintain that the democratic party was wrong when it adopted its financial pledge, or that the people were wrong when they endorsed it.

However, neither Mr. Cleveland nor his warmest partisan has any right to set his judgment up as superior to that of the great body of the people—nor any right to stand in the way of platform legislation—nor any right to pursue this rigorous policy of personal infallibility to the point of destroying the harmony and unity of the party.

Thus far, none of the comedies outside the eleventh district have ventured to declare that Mr. Cleveland's judgment is superior to that of the people, and more democratic than the platform itself. On the other hand, none have said a word against the president's honesty and integrity. Nor should they do so, for this is not and should not be the issue.

Why Not Carry Out All the Pledges?

As was announced Senator Gordon made a speech yesterday taking the Coxy movement as a text, and showing that the perturbed condition of which that movement is a symptom, does not exist in the south. Senator Gordon's speech was to show that the people of the south are not dependent on the government for class legislation in the shape of high protection, nor for bonuses in the shape of pensions, but depend entirely on their own resources. In other words, Senator Gordon demanded that the pledge of the democratic platform obligating the party to repeal the McKinley law and put in its place a tariff for revenue only, be redeemed.

In yesterday's report of congressional proceedings—in addition to the announcement of Senator Gordon's speech—there was a summary of a tariff speech made by Senator Mills, of Texas.

The Texan understands the tariff question thoroughly, and has had his name linked with at least one revenue measure that would have been a great benefit to the people if it had become a law. Senator Mills, we are glad to see, insists on carrying out both the letter and the spirit of the tariff pledge of the party. He declares that no man can torture him into an admission that the bill pending before the senate is in any respect an answer to the pledges made by the democratic national convention to the democratic people of the United States. He will vote against the amendments to be offered, and he says he does not regard himself as in any way responsible for the measure as it stands.

It will be observed that Senator Mills takes very high ground on the tariff question, and we presume that Senator Gordon will follow the example of the gentleman from Texas. As a matter of fact, it is the only ground to take by democrats who desire to perpetuate the party organization. A tariff for revenue only is what the democratic people of the United States demand, and that is what the party in convention has promised them. They demanded it when they swept the republicans out of the house in 1890 and they demanded it when they took the party at its word and voted it into power in all branches of the government in 1892.

Now, the only way to redeem the tariff pledge of the democratic party is to take the people at their word and frame a tariff for revenue only. Anything short of that is not democratic. Anything short of that cannot be regarded as the fulfillment of the solemn obligation which the party assumed when it assumed control of legislation. We do not see how the party can fail to redeem the tariff pledge now and then expect the people to put any confidence in a renewal of that pledge in some future contest. If the tone and temper of Senator Mills's speech are correctly rendered in the report, he is evidently of the same way of thinking, for there is a plain warning in his remarks hinted at rather than expressed. But while both Senator Mills and Senator Gordon appear to have extreme anxiety about the tariff pledge, they seem to take no interest whatever in the redemption of the financial pledge, which in the most solemn manner obligates the party to hold to both gold and silver, and to open the mints to both, without discrimination against either metal. And yet the financial pledge is not a whit less important to the welfare and prosperity of the people than the tariff demand. Thousands upon thousands of true democrats all over the country regard the financial pledge at this particular juncture as of more importance than the tariff pledge, and they entertain this belief without in the slightest degree minimizing the importance of the tariff pledge. But they perceive that billions of dollars in property values have been exterminated in order that the creditor class may reap a golden harvest. They see prices sent far below the average that would prevail under a tariff for revenue based on a sound and just financial system, and it requires small reflection to show them that a tariff for revenue only under the single gold standard would be but another turn in the screw of depression.

In short, both Senator Mills and Senator Gordon ought to perceive that the tariff and financial pledges are interdependent—that they fit like the cogs of motor wheels into the vast business machinery of the republic. What has blinded them? They were keen enough to refuse to vote for democratic legislation in place of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law; they were keen to declare that this was the first step toward redeeming the democratic platform; why are they not now willing to take the second step, and thus pave the way for a generation of prosperity under democratic rule?

Judge Allen Fort.

The election of Judge Allen Fort as chairman of the national convention of state railway commissioners, is a compliment to his state no less than to the distinguished Georgian himself. It is an expression of confidence in his ability, which is recognized and appreciated at home. No Georgian in recent years has made a stronger impress on the material progress of this state than Judge Fort has. He is the father of the Georgia railway commission, a board which the state has clothed with powers to regulate the traffic on 5,000 miles of railway, representing an investment of $100,000,000. Regulation of transportation is one of the newer problems of state government. These agents to whom the states intrust the responsibility of controlling the railways and telegraphs should be men of no common ability. The taking from the earnings of our railways of 1 mill on every ton of freight which they haul one mile means a loss equal to a fair dividend on the capital stock. The adjustment of the railway rates to the prosperity of the companies and of the people along the lines, is as delicate as the finest movement of a watch.

We have 175,000 miles of railway in the United States, representing a capitalization which runs up into the billions, and furnishing support in good times to one-twelfth of the population of the country. These are the gigantic interests over which the state railway commissioners have more or less direct control. To be selected as presiding officer of this body of men is a high testimonial indeed. Judge Fort fully merits it. To the study of the broad transportation problems of this day he has brought a finely trained legal mind. His opinions on grievances brought, whether by some patron or by a railway company, carry weight. He stands out prominently among the authorities on railway law and the regulation of traffic. Hence it is natural for him to be honored in the manner noted. And in this distinction his state and his state's board of railway commissioners share.

The Douglas Resolutions.

Our esteemed and greatly admired friend, Hon. Joe S. James, the distinguished United States district attorney of this district, denies that the Douglas resolutions were in any way modified from the original purpose of the introducers, and concerning the resolutions adopted by the mass meeting endorsing, as Mr. James says, "President Cleveland and the administration," he adds that the resolutions "were offered without consultation from any source, and were adopted with but four persons voting against them."

We are astonished that one democrat in Douglas county—much less four—could have been found to oppose the adoption of the resolutions referred to. They are as broadly expressive of democratic sentiment as any democrat would have them, and while they express belief in Mr. Cleveland's honesty, it will be especially observed that Mr. James is wrong in his assertion that they endorse "President Cleveland and the administration." There is not one word concerning the administration in the resolutions, and as The Constitution's admirable report announced yesterday, that question was not referred to, because the democrats of Douglas county were unwilling to go on record as approving the financial policy of the administration, which is the financial policy of Thomas B. Reed, John Sherman and exclusively of the New England democracy.

In order that there may be no possible misunderstanding about it, we publish herewith the Douglas resolutions in full, and if in the careful perusal of them Mr. James or anybody else can discover any qualified or unqualified endorsement of the policy of the administration on the financial question, or even a broadly sweeping endorsement which could cover it, it is more than The Constitution can do.

Resolved, 1. That we hereby pledge our fealty to the democratic party, both state and national; that if the people of this country receive any relief from any party, we believe that such relief will come through the democratic party and none other.

Resolved, 2. That we express the utmost confidence in the patriotism, honesty and fidelity of Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, and in the present Congress of the United States.

As stated in The Constitution's report from Douglasville, the idea of endorsing the administration to the extent of condoning its financial policy was considered too risky for trial. There are quite a number of distinguished monometallists in this country whose patriotism, honesty and fidelity is such as not to be questioned. They have their views on the financial question, and the democrats of the south look at the matter in an entirely different light. Many of our best friends differ with the construction that the democrats of the south place on the democratic platform. Yet our people were unanimous when that platform was considered at the ballot box, and while the people of this section remain honest in adhering to their campaign construction, they can nevertheless have the "utmost confidence in the patriotism, honesty and fidelity" of some of the distinguished republicans and democrats of the east who conscientiously differ with them on this subject.

There is a vast difference, however, in the recognition of "honesty and patriotism" and in an endorsement of a principle.

We hold to the opinion frequently expressed in these columns that in the great state of Georgia not one in ten counts that will act, outside of the eleventh congressional district will endorse the financial policy of the administration, and thus repudiate democratic congressmen, democratic sentiment and southern democratic traditions. Not one single county in Georgia, outside of the eleventh district, has yet endorsed the financial policy which has prevailed in Washington, and we earnestly await the announcement of the name of the first county, beyond the confines of the eleventh district, which proposes to take this step toward the republican reserve of monometallism which has already cost this state and this section as much as was lost in any one year of the civil war.

Not a Candidate.

We publish elsewhere a card from Hon. E. W. Martin, in which he announces that he will not be a candidate for the state senate from this district, notwithstanding the fact that he has been importuned by his admirers to allow the use of his name. Mr. Martin has given the matter careful consideration, and has concluded not to yield to the pressure of the honors of senatorial promotion.

The county of Fulton has never had a more attentive, painstaking or zealous representative than Mr. Martin, who for two terms has represented this county in the lower house of the general assembly. The splendid record made as a member of that body and the high esteem in which he is held by the people of the county have combined to suggest his name in connection with senatorial promotion, and while he has never indicated even his willingness or his desire to be considered as a candidate for the senate, the favorable response elicited by the mere suggestion of his name has been such as to pay a high tribute to his ability and his popularity.

Mr. Martin has done the county splendid service and will prove a worthy representative in any field of public work in which he may be placed.

The Congressional Record permitted an anonymous correspondent to announce that C. H. J. Taylor had been confirmed to some office.

Mr. Harrison says he doesn't want to be president again. The death of old man McGarran probably hurt his feelings.

The Kentuckians are not standing together as of old. Editor Watterson doesn't believe Colonel Breckinridge ought to be re-elected.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

An interesting fact not generally known in regard to the diplomatic corps is that a member of that august body cannot, under the penalty of official reprimand and danger of recall, appear at a fancy ball in the national court costume. This fact was developed during the present winter when a large fancy ball was given at one of the private houses on the same evening of the presidential reception of the diplomatic corps. Those of the diplomats who attended the ball later in the evening were obliged to change the court costumes worn at the white house. Inquiry on the part of curious friends developed the reason just stated.

The drink known as the cocktail was invented and named by Elizabeth Flanagan, sister of an Irish soldier who died during the revolution. She then became a sutler and followed the troop of Virginia horse which in 1779 wintered at Four Corners, between White Plains and Tarrytown, Westchester county, New York. Betty Flanagan set up a hotel, which the American and French officers frequented. They would come in after a night at the card table for a "bracer," and Mistress Flanagan would provide them with a drink that made them feel as "fresh as cock's tail." In time the compound received the name by which it is now known.

Customs duties are in many particulars not enforced along the Mexican boundary with the strictness that prevails upon the Canadian border. This is especially the case with those movable western commodities, cattle, horses and sheep. With all the natural obstacles in the shape of mountains, forest and arid plains it has thus far been found impracticable for customs officers to patrol so long a border and among the numerous ranch herds grazing on both sides of the boundary it is hard to prove a violation of the law on either side. The sentiment of the people along the border inclines to free trade in respect to live stock. With some of the customs officials who are in the service for reasons rather than patriotic it is not difficult for smugglers to come to terms, and thus it comes about that of the many herds of live stock driven north from old Mexico but a small proportion is ever accounted for in the records of customs receipts.

At a meeting held at Brooklyn last week to compare notes on rates of interest paid by the poor, it was found that many householders who had mortgaged their furniture for $100 had been paying $8 interest on the loan every month for years, and still owed the original $100, with no prospect of ever getting enough money together to cancel the debt. New York city has followed the example of Boston in organizing a strong corporation to lend money on household goods at reasonable rates of interest.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "The Kentucky democrats probably feel about the colonel as Victor Hugo did about Napoleon III. When he saw an old Frenchman tottering up to the polls to vote for the nephew of his uncle, the poet renounced, saying, 'The man is a scoundrel.' True," said the veteran, "but he is a necessary scoundrel."

Alabama's Druggists.

Anniston, Ala., May 10.—(Special.)—The Alabama Pharmaceutical Association, which convened here Tuesday, has adjourned. For reasons rather than patriotic it is not difficult for smugglers to come to terms, and thus it comes about that of the many herds of live stock driven north from old Mexico but a small proportion is ever accounted for in the records of customs receipts.

JUST FROM GEORGIA.

So Much Trouble.
 So much trouble—people fightin'—
 Here an' there;
 Country's wrongs all needin' rightin'—
 Ask fer whisky, an' get beer!
So much trouble—people marchin'.
 Crost the hills;
 All their collars needin' starchin'—
 Not a cent fer washin' bills!
So much trouble—people givin'.
 Fer the offices their votes;
 Voters try to make a livin'—
 Mighty little cash fer votes!
So much trouble! people wonder—
 Gittin' warm;
 When they're told to "go to thunder!"
 How the world'll stand the storm!

The famous Indian Spring dummy has remained operations and is whistling through the woodlands at a lively rate. And the dummy is all right, for Colonel George Collier, the celebrated marble player of the Wigwam hotel, has made two trips on it, and Colonel Collier weighs 330 pounds net.

Write no poems on the weather. "The clouds are hot, beyond a doubt; Let us merely melt together— Swat it out!"

The highest authorities have declared that the author of "Mr. Barnes, of New York," is "not a literary man." Correct: he's a millionaire.

Poor General Coxe! led his men Through all the cold and rain; Marched up the hill of Grover, And then marched down again!

Editor Halstead was pleased to see the stars and stripes waving everywhere in the south, and he joyfully cast aside the fact that we have even named our tobacco "Old Glory."

"How's the college doing now?"
 "Splendid!"
 "Quite full?"
 "I reckon so; boys got their monthly remittances last night."

Notwithstanding the recent blizzard, spring is out in a new dress, but it is mostly leaded nonpareil, with very few scare heads.

These dreary days are over And we reach the heights sublime, All the country'll be in clover, And the cows will make good time.

The "cheer-up" writers are the most popular of the day. The world has been in the bush, but happiness is still confined to the pint measure.

We pass through sorrow's bitter school As through this world we go; But cheer up! Even the Georgia mule (Rejoice much in "Whoa!")

Editor Cooper, of The Rome Tribune, is visiting in the city. Editor Cooper came up to enjoy our mountain air and get perfectly cool.

"It is hot," so the world has declared. The thermometer climbs in the air; But the summer hotel is repaired! To the summer hotel we repair!

The Georgia editors will have a good time in Mexico pulling red peppers in this delightful weather.

Dr. J. W. Lee, at last accounts, was at Fort Smith. He is to write a big book about the holy land—the point he is steering for.

Now Georgia sings enraptured With every vale and hill, With the campaign in the saddle And the moonlight on the still.

A Georgia debating society recently discussed the question: "Should women drink wine?" It was decided in the affirmative, as follows: "By all means; the men don't like it, because it doesn't go well with sugar."

The seven-foot editor of The Lithonia News has reduced the price of his paper for three months. He got six square meals at the recent Stone Mountain barbecue, and he gratefully gives his subscribers the benefit of his good fortune. Call again, Brother Steadman!

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

A Card from Mr. Martin.
 Atlanta, Ga., May 10, 1894.—Editor Constitution: My name has been mentioned for senator in the coming election in the thirty-fifth senatorial district.

I desire it understood that I am not in the race.

If by this course I can accomplish harmony and do any good for the democratic party, I shall be repaid. I wish to express my thanks and very high appreciation to many friends who have been so kind enough to desire me to fill the position. The approval of a high-minded and patriotic people is a possession of rare value. To obtain it, any spirit, even the proudest, must strive.

As a democrat, I hope for full harmony; for success to the utmost, for the only party to which the people can look for the maintenance of liberty and protection against encroachments on their rights. Very truly and respectfully yours,

EDMUND W. MARTIN.

ABOUT THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The Clarksville Advertiser makes this announcement editorially:

Under the new management The Advertiser will continue in the support of General Evans for governor. We believe General Evans is the best man of the two now in the field, and that his election would better serve the people of Georgia and the interests of the democratic party than any man we could run, considering the matter from both an economic and political standpoint.

"General Evans is a pure man in the first place, and as governor of the state would give us a pure administration. He is a man of the people, and he is a man of the popular political character of the day, and would soon to take advantage of his high office for the furtherance of his personal or political interest. His sympathies are with the masses and he has proven before the people that he is a man of the people. He has shown a view to the advancement of the material interests of the people, the upholding of a high standard of politics, law, morals and religion. Could we find another with a record so broad and full, and withal so clean? The people will answer this question when they send their delegates to the convention in August, instructed for General Evans."

The Gwinnett Herald says of Judge Hutchins:

"Judge Hutchins has taken no active part in this campaign as many of the Georgia judges are reported to be doing. That is right. When a man is selected to fill a high judicial position, where he is to pass upon the life, liberty and property of his fellow men, it is unbecoming in him to go into party wrangles. Still he has the right of every citizen of casting his vote for all officers. And this right Judge Hutchins exercises in expressing his preference for the office of governor. That he is not controlled in his decision by any considerations personal to himself, does honor to his integrity as a judge and his patriotism as a citizen."

The Gwinnett Herald, in a leading editorial on the governorship, says:

"The tide has been turning steadily in this campaign as many of the Georgia sections of the state. Colonel Atkinson will carry some counties; we give him thirty-seven. But mark the prediction: Two-thirds of the counties Atkinson gets will be lost to him by the political tricksters. The day is passing away when the people of Georgia will be controlled by machine politics."

said if they lived in another county they might vote for General Evans, but they thought it would be a shame for Baldwin to vote against Mr. Atkinson."

The Gwinnett Herald scores one in the following paragraph:

"It is a very poor platform for a candidate for governor to mount, that he is opposed to Atlanta. A man is not fit for governor who is opposed to any town or county in the state. The executive ought to be governor of all the state, and willing to give every community an equal and fair chance."

The Augusta Herald sums up as follows:

"There is now little doubt that General Evans will be the democratic nominee for governor."

Says The American Times-Recorder:

"Everywhere there have been primaries. Evans has carried the day. Give the people a chance to vote and the result will be for Evans. Snap shots are taken only by Atkinson's few supporters who are afraid to trust the people."

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

The Clarksville Advertiser has this of Congressman Tate:

"The democrats of this county have every reason to be proud of the record this brilliant young congressman, whom they helped so materially to elect two years ago, has made. He has championed the cause of the people in every instance, and has voted uniformly and without exception, as he promised the people who elected him. He has the reputation of being one of the hardest workers in the house and his popularity with all the southern and western delegations is such as is enjoyed by no other member. To faithfully represent and serve his constituents is a delight to him, and no request, from however humble source, goes unheeded. Then he is a broad-minded statesman, vigorous and aggressive, and great possibilities await his maturity in the service of his people. We hope to see him re-elected next fall, for in all the old north we think of no one more able to carry the democratic colors over a victorious field, nor one who will more faithfully represent the people."

The Clarksville Advertiser has this editorial comment:

"The attack made by Cranfill, of Texas, on Governor Northern for his appointment of Pat Walsh, who is a Catholic, to the senate, is disgustingly full of nothing under the sun except a religious bigotry. The Catholic cardinal would scorn to make use of Politics and religion are directly opposite in their very natures, and do not mix except by a process of emulsifying in which you lose sight of both. Governor Northern respected the principle in the appointment of Senator Walsh, and the people of Georgia uphold him in it and are proud that their governor, in the administration of the state's affairs, showed himself so free from religious bigotry."

The Gwinnett Herald says:

"Colonel John J. Kimsey, of White County, is a candidate for judge of the Northern circuit to succeed Judge Welborn. We have known the colonel long, and he is an able lawyer and would make an excellent judge."

Colonel Payson S. Whitley, of Newnan, having been importuned by several friends to allow the use of his name for the legislature, has written a letter, which is published in the last issue of The Newnan Herald and Advertiser, in which he declines to do so. He expresses his appreciation of the many evidences of esteem which have been manifested in the numerous requests that he has received to become a candidate, and says that he is willing to work faithfully for the success of the democratic party, "whether he is elected or not," but that he will not allow his name to be used in connection with the many evils which now beset the good people of this fair land."

SOUTHERN NEWS NOTES.

The oldest man in Sampson county, North Carolina, is Mr. Peyton Rackley, of that county township. He is now nearly ninety years of age. Mr. Rackley is by profession a wheelwright and yet works at his trade.

At Velasco, Tex., a negro man was cut in the head with a hatchet by a woman. Several men were present and examined the wound, and the skull is split and the brain penetrated in two places. He appears to be not at all bothered and attends to his daily duties as usual.

The bite of Kentucky ticks is sometimes fatal. Mr. F. A. Tabor was bitten by a tick with very peculiar and nearly fatal results. He was attending in a drug store when he felt a stinging sensation on his arm, and, upon its increasing to an acute pain, he retired to investigate the cause and found a tick with its head imbedded in the flesh. He removed the insect with his fingers, and the tick had left its poison and with the velocity of the circulation it was disseminated through his system. His nose was the first member affected. It became a fiery red streaked with bright green, and swelled rapidly until it reached the size of a large egg. His eyes were angrily inflamed and emitted an intense heat. His face was quickly swollen and fiercely convulsed with most excruciating pain. Terrible convulsions seized his body and he was writhing in agony that seemed to forebode the death struggle when a physician arrived and with much difficulty relieved his suffering. After a short while he recovered sufficiently to leave his bed, but he was very weak and showed plainly in his haggard face and extreme nervousness the effects of his violent sickness. The tick was an ordinary dog-tick, but for virulence of its poisons it surpasses any of its kind ever heard of.

GRANDMA AT THE BALL.

(Mrs. M. B.—a B—, Rome, Ga.)
 Shoebuckles and comb with gems resplendent.
 Sleeves with puffs and a wide nookspirk.
 From colonial days on the fair descendant.
 When ancestress was an old-time flirt.

The ballroom will thrill with whisper and snapp!
 With rattling faces and shimmering loveliness.
 And powdered wigs with a natural curl.
 Will be worn by maids from a thousand places.

The stress and swell of the violin's quiver.
 The scent of the jessamine, the rose and the pink.
 Will meet merry adrift on a golden river
 And dear grandma will begin to think:

The dust of years is brushed away.
 The yearning pulse of youth revives.
 When madly she danced 'till break of day
 And unclasp'd her arms with the tenderest sighs.

She hears the rhythm of strings long snapp'd;
 The trill of a laugh that's hushed;
 Remembers a time, when she was snapp'd
 A heart through which, though warm blood rushed.

The bugle was sounded in 'sixty-one;
 Followed by years of tears unstay'd.
 True 'till the soldier's work was done,
 To the vows of his love unsaid.

Eager with hope to the front he went.
 As merrily as to that happy dance;
 Into the jaws of death he swept,
 And died

KNIGHTS AT A COE.

Visiting Templars Are Entertained by Their Atlanta Brothers.

ALL OF THEM HAVE A ROYAL TIME.

After the Burden and Heat of the Day Their Business Session Is Called off for Refreshments.

The Knights Templars closed their grand convalescent yesterday morning by conferring upon a well-known citizen of Atlanta an honor that befits the dignity and pride of this city.

It was the election of Sir Knight Park Woodward as right eminent grand commander of the state of Georgia. This exalted office was held the past year by Sir William P. Baldwin, of Macon, whose administration not only endeared him to the Knights of the Red Cross, but reflected honor upon him as a man and a citizen of Georgia. On retiring he was overwhelmed with expressions of regard that were as hearty as were the congratulations that were showered upon his worthy successor.

No other business was transacted by the Walton executed an artistic step of the plantation variety, which convulsed the spectators.

At this juncture, "Billie" Sparks made his debut in his long barbecue apron and cut the pigeon wing with a scientific step that laid all competitors in the shade. Encouraged by the success of his first effort, he met the emergency with a new step every time.

Sir Knight Gene Hardeman, who was elected as senior warden of the grand commandery, was forced to acknowledge the honor with a clog dance, and did so to perfection. Several impromptu speeches were made, among which was a happy effort by Grand Commander Woodward. An effort was made to secure a speech from Sir Knight Shannon, but he mysteriously disappeared much to the regret of all.

It was about 8 o'clock when the train returned to the city every passenger was delighted with the trip.

The Savannah delegation was unfortunately deterred from attending the barbecue, being forced to leave for home before the return of the special train. This was a disappointment to the local commanderies as well as all the visitors, as they made many friends during their stay in the city.

Conclave Notes.

Among the visiting Knights Templars none received more distinguished attention than the gentlemen representing the Augusta commandery. One of their number, Mr. Robert E. Allen, received recognition from grand commandery beyond the election of officers. All of the positions were filled by new knights except in the case of Sir J. H. Orr, of St. Aldemer commandery, who succeeds himself as deputy grand commander. The remaining officers were filled as follows:

RIGHT EMINENT GRAND COMMANDER PARK WOODWARD, Who Was Complimented by the Sir Knights of Georgia Yesterday Over Whom He Will Preside for the Next Year.

Grand Generalissimo—C. W. Walton, of Rome.

Grand Captain General—C. M. Wiley, of Macon.

Grand Prelate—Samuel Hape, of Atlanta.

Secretary—S. P. Hamilton, of Savannah.

Treasurer—W. B. Dunlap, of Macon.

Senior Warden—Eugene Hardeman, of Atlanta.

Junior Warden—R. E. Allen, of Augusta.

After the installation exercises, which immediately followed the election, Grand Commander Sir Park Woodward was introduced and in a few happy remarks thanked his brother knights for the honor that had been conferred upon him.

The convalescent was then adjourned and the knights began to whet an appetite for the crowning event of the day—the barbecue at Iowville.

At 2:30 o'clock a special train on the Western and Atlantic railroad pulled out of the union depot with about three hundred ladies and gentlemen on board, and as the train sped through the city the Atlanta Military band, which occupied a front car, discoursed a lively air.

The trip was replete with pleasing incidents. Mr. Julius Brown, ex chairman of the committee on arrangements, with his usual tact and consideration, looked after the comfort of the passengers and the train was hardly out of the city limits before those on board were enjoying themselves to the utmost.

One of the liveliest spirits on board was Sir Knight Deitz, of the ever-popular Macon commandery. He was one of the youngest old men in the party and started the ball of fun to rolling as soon as he entered the car. Just after the train rolled out of the depot he pulled out, "check!" and when a general dive was made for the pastebards he innocently explained that he simply wanted to see if it tickled.

There were many deaths on board. One of the liveliest spirits on board was Sir Knight Deitz, of the ever-popular Macon commandery. He was one of the youngest old men in the party and started the ball of fun to rolling as soon as he entered the car. Just after the train rolled out of the depot he pulled out, "check!" and when a general dive was made for the pastebards he innocently explained that he simply wanted to see if it tickled.

The beautiful little retreat at Iowville was designed by nature for a picnic ground. The shade almost drips from the majestic trees and the Chattahoochee river like a broad band of gold flows by in plain view. The universal exclamation was:

"How beautiful!"

From a broad level hollow, almost enveloped with lofty hills was wafted the odor of the Georgia barbecue in the course of preparation. And then the scene itself was reached. Several long tables covered with little wooden trays and the eye and on a little further was the usual trench over which were the smoking carcasses of nearly a half hundred hogs, lambs and kids, all done to a turn. That prince of clever fellows, "Billie" Sparks, enveloped in a snow-white apron, was giving the finishing touches to the Brunswick stew while Barney Kleibacker, with sleeves rolled up, was mopping the meats with the "seasoning." These gentlemen are artists of whom Atlanta boasts, and if Sheriff Callaway has any rivals in Georgia he will have to address these two gentlemen.

In the course of time dinner was announced and it was one of the most royal feasts ever spread.

Some of the knights had eaten a hearty repast before leaving the city, but the growing tables coaxed back their appetites and every man did full justice to the heaping plate. A refreshment stand bountifully supplied with claret punch and beer, was in easy reach and shared the patronage of all present. The hand in the meantime was making the forests vocal with the enchanting strains of volcei selections. This, of course, suggested the many waltzes and plantation breakdowns, and both followed as a matter of course. The absence of conventionality was one of the most noticeable features of the occasion. Everybody seemed to be in for a good time, and that everybody had.

As Damon and Pythias, Sir Knights Ed McCandless and Jeff Dunwoody were striking counterparts. They were the inaugural round of the dinner festivities and a continual round of fun followed. Captain John Seay, of Rome, was dragged into the pavilion and was literally forced to do a clog dance and he in turn forced Bedate Sir Knight Walton, of Floyd, into the arena, introducing him with mock dignity as the great gynecologist, weighting fourteen tons, who came over the ocean in two ships. Sir

THE EXPOSITION.

Preparations for the Trip to Washington About Completed.

A STRONG DELEGATION IT WILL BE.

Business Men from Other States Will Join the Atlanta Party—Meeting of the Executive Committee Yesterday.

The visit of the exposition committee to Washington is a most important event scheduled for the near future. Preparations for that visit are being rapidly completed and it is expected that the delegation which will leave here Sunday night will be a highly representative one. Under the change of schedule just announced, the party will leave by the Richmond and Danville at 9 o'clock p. m. instead of at 5:30, as first announced.

It is very gratifying to the exposition management and will be to the citizens generally to know that a number of prominent gentlemen from other cities in the south will join with them and will go on to Washington to show the senators and representatives, and especially those on the appropriation committee, that the exposition is not a local affair, but that the whole south is interested in it and urges congress to aid it in every way possible.

The names of all who will go cannot yet be announced because a good many are still uncertain as to their ability to leave the city, but the party will be a thoroughly representative one, and will include prominent business men who are not members of the exposition board, as well as a number of those who are. Many of these gentlemen will go, though it will be at a distinct personal sacrifice. At the meeting of the exposition executive committee yesterday afternoon it developed that a number of those who had been urged to go felt that they should not do so on account of personal reasons, but all of these joined in declaring that they would make whatever sacrifice was necessary and would be with the party. There will also be accessions from other cities of the south between here and Washington, so there is every reason to expect that the delegation will be one that will make a favorable impression upon the members of congress.

Preliminary Prospectus. President Collier and Director General Palmer have issued a preliminary prospectus, setting forth the facts about the exposition in a brief and concise form and containing also the endorsements of the governors of the southern states and of the commercial bodies throughout the south. As announced on the first page, this is simply a preliminary prospectus, giving simply a suggestion of the principal features and setting forth especially the aims and objects of the exposition. It refers to the bill before congress by which it is hoped to secure government exhibits and government aid, and then mentions the different features—the co-operation of the Central, South and Latin American states, the exhibits expected from the various states, the woman's department, the negro building and other features of the work. This prospectus tells what Atlanta has done and impresses upon the mind of the reader that the Cotton States and International exposition is bound to be the biggest thing this country has ever seen with the exception of the world's fair at Chicago and the centennial at Philadelphia. A map showing the location of Atlanta with regard to the other cities of this country and the cities of Mexico, Central and South America, and a list of the exposition's officers are contained in the little book, which is of convenient size, and which it is expected will be very generally circulated where it will do good.

The Executive Committee's Meeting. The executive committee held a largely attended meeting yesterday afternoon, during which the affairs of the company were gone over and discussed and a good deal of business of a routine nature was transacted. Mr. J. H. Howell, of the committee on legislation, made a report concerning the preparations for the trip to Washington, which was most gratifying. The features of this trip were discussed at some length and a good deal of business was mapped out and prepared for the next meeting of the board. Everything is moving on smoothly and every exhibition headquarters it is thoroughly business.

ANOTHER ENDORSEMENT. Young Men's Business League of Memphis, Joins the Exposition Band. Memphis, Tenn., May 10.—(Special.)—At the last meeting of the Young Men's Business League of this city resolutions were passed fully endorsing the Cotton States and International exposition of Atlanta, asking the state to champion the movement, the state's representatives in congress to urge that it be given government aid, and urging that the interests of the whole Mississippi valley be defended by the exposition be made a great success.

Colonel I. W. Avery appeared before the meeting and explained the object and scope of the exposition, and the result of his talk was an enthusiastic endorsement by the Young Men's Business League.

ETCHED AND SKETCHED. While Georgia's Lord Beresford is down at the Green camp enjoying the society of Harry Hill, another Beresford is getting his feet in the papers of New York and London. This other Beresford is Francis, but unless the anglo-manics of New York's swell society have been badly taken in, this Beresford is a real lord. Francis Beresford is getting in the papers on the strength of the fact that a very charming woman has refused to marry him. Ordinarily that is not a very happy distinction, but perhaps it is preferable to that enjoyed by the other lord, the distinction of wearing stripes in a Georgia penitentiary camp.

The story goes that Francis Beresford has been so long in the Georgia penitentiary camp, that he has become a real lord. He is described as an English youth who took the usual first step toward notoriety by going hunting in Africa. Then, according to the usual program, he came to America and allowed himself to be taken in by a traveling cognito. Of course, his real or pretended identity soon leaked out, and it became noted abroad that he was the real marquis of Waterford. Then, at a little breakfast, at which a number of charming young women of the stage were present, Mr. Beresford surprised and startled the rest of the company by turning to Mary Hampton, the very attractive actress, and proposing marriage then and there.

Whether Beresford's personality was not particularly charming, or whether Mary Hampton was not particularly susceptible, or whether, does not appear, but perhaps it was the latter which induced her to refuse his lord as abruptly as the offer was tendered. This thing of actresses marrying lords has been so done to death that Mary probably thought it time to invent something new; hence her refusal.

The newspaper stories are full of interviews with all the parties concerned, and Beresford is quoted as modestly proclaiming his right to the title. The New York Herald, however, draws Burke's Peerage on him and suggests that perhaps would be difficult for him to sustain his claim. In the meantime, it will be interesting to know what Georgia's Lord Beresford thinks about it all.

Secretary Hoke Smith came down from Washington yesterday and is visiting his father, Dr. H. H. Smith, at his home far out West Peachtree. Secretary Smith came to appear before the supreme court in a Georgia Southern and Florida case which comes up before the tribunal this afternoon or tomorrow morning. He spent a few hours in this city yesterday and was warmly greeted by many of his friends.

Captain Dave Bailey, the brilliant and clever and young representative from Spalding county in the legislature, is in the city. So Atlanta won a game. Isn't there some mistake?

It is funny to hear the different estimates put on the Coxy movement by the people who discuss it. The majority are inclined to consider it as nothing at all, but a good many others, and especially people who have been through the west, take a more serious view of it.

Captain Kates, of Denver, was talking about the situation in the west and the public estimate of the Coxy pilgrimage, at the Kimball yesterday. "It may look foolish," said he, "at this distance, but when you go through the west and see the condition of affairs out there, you cannot help believing that these pilgrimages toward Washington may prove very unpleasant in the future. The fact of the matter is," said he, "the west is in very bad shape right now, industrially and politically. Nothing like the present condition of affairs has ever been known, and unless something is done, and done quickly, there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is no telling what may happen. The people of the west believe that the elements in New York and New England which control the money of the country are responsible for all this disaster, and they are getting restless under the pressure put upon them. Politically it looks as if the action of the administration has driven from the party all the democrats of the west. Yet there is

SCHEDULES

Departure of All

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Station	Time
Hapeville	8:00 am
Decatur	8:15 am
Lawrenceville	8:30 am
Atlanta	8:45 am
Decatur	9:00 am
Hapeville	9:15 am
Lawrenceville	9:30 am
Atlanta	9:45 am
Decatur	10:00 am
Hapeville	10:15 am
Lawrenceville	10:30 am
Atlanta	10:45 am
Decatur	11:00 am
Hapeville	11:15 am
Lawrenceville	11:30 am
Atlanta	11:45 am
Decatur	12:00 pm
Hapeville	12:15 pm
Lawrenceville	12:30 pm
Atlanta	12:45 pm
Decatur	1:00 pm
Hapeville	1:15 pm
Lawrenceville	1:30 pm
Atlanta	1:45 pm
Decatur	2:00 pm
Hapeville	2:15 pm
Lawrenceville	2:30 pm
Atlanta	2:45 pm
Decatur	3:00 pm
Hapeville	3:15 pm
Lawrenceville	3:30 pm
Atlanta	3:45 pm
Decatur	4:00 pm
Hapeville	4:15 pm
Lawrenceville	4:30 pm
Atlanta	4:45 pm
Decatur	5:00 pm
Hapeville	5:15 pm
Lawrenceville	5:30 pm
Atlanta	5:45 pm
Decatur	6:00 pm
Hapeville	6:15 pm
Lawrenceville	6:30 pm
Atlanta	6:45 pm
Decatur	7:00 pm
Hapeville	7:15 pm
Lawrenceville	7:30 pm
Atlanta	7:45 pm
Decatur	8:00 pm
Hapeville	8:15 pm
Lawrenceville	8:30 pm
Atlanta	8:45 pm
Decatur	9:00 pm
Hapeville	9:15 pm
Lawrenceville	9:30 pm
Atlanta	9:45 pm
Decatur	10:00 pm
Hapeville	10:15 pm
Lawrenceville	10:30 pm
Atlanta	10:45 pm
Decatur	11:00 pm
Hapeville	11:15 pm
Lawrenceville	11:30 pm
Atlanta	11:45 pm
Decatur	12:00 am

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

D. OF GEORGIA.

Central Time.

PROUD OF TEDDY.

Aided by His Kids He Has Succeeded In Winning a Game.

AND MAGON IS NOW KICKING

Against Umpire McLaughlin—The Game
Was a Good One and Sullivan Is Happy.

Standing of the Clubs.

Club	Played	Won	Lost	Per Ct.
Atlanta	22	17	5	.773
Savannah	22	15	7	.682
Mobile	22	14	8	.636
Atlanta	22	10	12	.455
Mobile	22	10	12	.455
New Orleans	22	10	12	.455
Nashville	22	10	12	.455
Mobile	22	10	12	.455

Atlanta took the second game from Macdon yesterday.
And Sullivan was all smiles last night.
So pleased was he with himself and the winning of the game that he at once began predicting the growing of a pennant pole in Atlanta before the coming frost.

The game was a good one and was full of interest to the large crowd present. Hawkinsville and Fort Valley both had large excursion parties on the grounds, invited to witness the second slaughter of the Atlantis.

But the crowd was disappointed as on the first day. On the first day the spectators expected to win, but lost.

Keenan did the pitching and his work was the most brilliant of the season. He was too quick to play and Boyle covered first base, while Sullivan was behind the plate. All Macdon would appear was jubilant over the first game and the whole grand stand was thronged with ladies and gentlemen who had been given a guarantee that Macdon would do Atlanta up again.

But Macdon lost and then when the game was over the people had the nerve to say Macdon's defeat on Umpire McLaughlin.

For McLaughlin, he has enough to stand without being abused by the people of the Central City, whose bad teams play only worse than that Atlanta has.

Let Macdon give up McLaughlin a chance. Like Ted Sullivan, he is a goodhearted, honest, hard-working Irishman, and will come just as near giving a right and correct decision as any umpire in the southern association. Like all good Irishmen, he expects no praise and deserves little criticism.

Give Mr. McLaughlin a chance, please, and that little fellow who rests on that "pennant pole" in the Macdon baseball park will turn another somersault, or two, and outwring the "over-the-fence" ball "Pop"
Joanes sends after him.

Of the game yesterday the following appeal to the Constitution says:

How Atlanta Won.
Macdon, Ga., May 10.—(Special.)—A rotten decision of Umpire McLaughlin in the sixth inning probably gave the game to Atlanta today, or at any rate the score would have been 1 to 1 at the close of the ninth inning.

When the sixth inning commenced the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Macdon. Macdon failed to score in the sixth. Atlanta came to bat and Boyle got a base on balls. Gies struck out. Ashenback knocked a twobagger to center field, sending Boyle to third base. Chard flew out to left and Boyle started home. Sullivan, at bat, made
a beautiful throw from left to home.

Hoover caught the ball and ran forward
several feet to meet Boyle, and touched him
with the ball some distance from the home
plate, and yet McLaughlin declared Boyle
safe and allowed him to score.

The decision was very rank and disgusted
the crowd.
Ashenback advanced to third in the play
and Burke hit safe to left and Ashenback scored, while Keenan hit to second and was put out.

Atlanta made two runs, but for McLaughlin's decision relative to Boyle would not have scored in this inning. In the seventh
Macdon made no further runs.

In the seventh inning Holloman scored,
and the game ended 3 to 1 in favor of At-lantis's coils.

Gilman played left field today for Atlanta
and Keenan pitched an excellent game.
Sullivan says Smith, his new left fielder,
will arrive tomorrow, and Gilman will take right. He expects to have another fine player Saturday. Sullivan says his men are getting in better condition, becoming acclimated, as it were, and will henceforth do brilliant work.

Macdon is confident of winning two out of three from Charleston.
Ryan was sick today and Boyle had to play first base. Following is the official score:

AB. R. H. P. O. A. E.	AB. R. H. P. O. A. E.
McFarland, cf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Hoover, c	0 0 0 0 0 0
Joanes, 1b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Wolfe, rf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Pitt, 2b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Welch, lf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Bastian, ss	0 0 0 0 0 0
McLaughlin, 3b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Hill, p	0 0 0 0 0 0
Totals	33 1 5 24 18 2

Score by innings:
Macdon 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Atlanta 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Summary: Earned runs, Macdon 1, Atlanta
2. Three-base hits, Boland, Hill, Worelock.
Two-base hits, Ashenback, Wolfe. Sacrifices,
Bastian, Pitt. Struck out, by Hill 3, by Keenan 1. Double plays, Gies to Holloman
and Boyle. Left fielder, Sullivan. Umpire, McLaughlin. Time, 1:15. Total hits, Atlanta 11, Macdon 10. Time of game, one hour and fifty minutes. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Nashville Beats New Orleans.
Nashville, Tenn., May 10.—In the first part of the game Nashville found Baker,
and Haller's miff of a fly ball gave Nashville the first run. Nashville made two more in the third inning. After three runs were made, by timely hitting assisted by the Pelicans' critical errors, Nashville secured nine hits and two errors, while the Pelicans had ten hits and six errors. New Orleans made a glorious kick against Umpire
Hogan. Score:
Nashville.....010101020-7
New Orleans.....00000000-0
Base hits—Nashville 10; New Orleans 9.
Errors—Nashville 2; New Orleans 4. Batteries—Moran and Kinslow; Baker and Schabel.

Memphis Beats Mobile.
Memphis, Tenn., May 10.—In the second game of the Mobile-Memphis series, Memphis got on to Knoxville early in the game and pounded him all over the field. The home team played a splendid game. Ken-edy's work at shortstop and Wadsworth
in the box being especially commendable.
With two men on bases, Wells, for Mobile,
pitched an excellent game throughout.
Time, Wadsworth's men guessing all the time. Wells' second base play was the feature. Score:
Memphis.....00000000-6
Mobile.....00000000-0
Base hits—Memphis 10; Mobile 7. Errors—
Memphis none; Mobile 2. Batteries—
Wadsworth and Boland; Knorr, Trost and Wells.

The Leaders Win.
Charleston, S. C., May 10.—Savannah lost
its game through the wisdom of Duke.
Peppler was substituted in the fourth inning and pitched a fine game. Blackburn
pitched an excellent game throughout.
Time, Wadsworth's men guessing all the time. Wells' second base play was the feature. Score:
Charleston.....00000000-6
Savannah.....00000000-0
Base hits—Charleston 6; Savannah 4. Batteries—Blackburn and Field; Duke, Peppler
and Jantzen.

Two Games at Grand Park.
There will be two games of ball at Grand park today. The picnic from Clayton will bring up a team to play a picked nine from Marshall's team.
The other game will be between The Constitution team and a picked nine. The following are the positions of the two teams:

CONSTITUTION. PICKED NINE.
Baker.....Pitcher.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Catcher.....Kinslow
Bastian.....First base.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Second base.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Third base.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Left field.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Center field.....Kinslow
Bastian.....Right field.....Kinslow
National League Games.

At Chicago—
Chicago-Louisville game postponed—rain.
At Baltimore—
Baltimore.....00000000-0
Philadelphia.....00000000-0
Hits—Baltimore 2; Philadelphia 1. Batteries—McLane and Robinson, Taylor and Clements.
At Pittsburgh—
Pittsburgh.....00000000-0
Cleveland.....00000000-0
Hits—Pittsburgh 6; Cleveland 6. Errors—and Mack, Young and Zimmer.
At Boston—
Boston.....00000000-0
Brooklyn.....00000000-0
Hits—Boston 2; Brooklyn 4. Errors—Boston 1; Brooklyn 2. Batteries—Nichols and Ryan, Stein and Kinslow.
At Cincinnati—
Cincinnati.....000111501-18
St. Louis.....00000000-0
Hits—Cincinnati 19; St. Louis 12. Errors—Cincinnati 2; St. Louis 2. Batteries—Parrott and Vaughn, Hawley, Breitenstein, Frank and Peltz.
At New York—
New York.....02210010-6
Washington.....00000000-0
Hits—New York 12; Washington 5. Errors—New York 2; Washington 3. Batteries—Rusie and Farrell, Mercer and Mc-Quire.

Notes of the Game.
There are seventy-four pitchers in the big league this year.
Shortstop McMahon has been released by Washington. He will sign with Wilkes-barre.
More is getting to be an easy mark for the National League pitchers.
Coloquhoun has not yet pitched a game for Pittsburgh.
Wheelock, who was with Charleston last year, has signed with Grand Rapids.
Dan Lally, the handsome man, has signed a Birmingham contract.
Flood, of New Orleans, is the hardest hitting pitcher in the south.
Joe Dowie, at third, is one of the Pelicans' star players.
Schabert is a hard, earnest and energetic player. He also keeps his mouth closed.
In the second Mobile-Nashville game,
Mobile made thirty-two hits off Borchers.
O'Brien and Taylor are the best second basemen in the south.
Letcher has been signed by Jacksonville.
St. Louis City is about the strongest team in the Western League.

Macdon was up two days last week from being hurt in a game of ball.
Harry Decker, the baseball player and inventor of the "over-the-fence" ball, is on trial for forgery in Chicago.
Ab Powell is one of the best fielders in the league. He is field captain of the Nashville team.

Lexington Races.
Lexington, Ky., May 10.—This was the fourth day of the Kentucky Association's spring meeting. The attendance was large, track dry, and at any rate the score would have been 1 to 1 at the close of the ninth inning.
When the sixth inning commenced the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Macdon. Macdon failed to score in the sixth. Atlanta came to bat and Boyle got a base on balls. Gies struck out. Ashenback knocked a twobagger to center field, sending Boyle to
third base. Chard flew out to left and
Boyle started home. Sullivan, at bat, made
a beautiful throw from left to home.

Hoover caught the ball and ran forward
several feet to meet Boyle, and touched him
with the ball some distance from the home
plate, and yet McLaughlin declared Boyle
safe and allowed him to score.

The decision was very rank and disgusted
the crowd.
Ashenback advanced to third in the play
and Burke hit safe to left and Ashenback
scored, while Keenan hit to second and was
put out.

Atlanta made two runs, but for McLaughlin's decision relative to Boyle would not have scored in this inning. In the seventh
Macdon made no further runs.

In the seventh inning Holloman scored,
and the game ended 3 to 1 in favor of At-
lantis's coils.

Gilman played left field today for Atlanta
and Keenan pitched an excellent game.
Sullivan says Smith, his new left fielder,
will arrive tomorrow, and Gilman will take
right. He expects to have another fine player Saturday. Sullivan says his men
are getting in better condition, becoming acclimated, as it were, and will henceforth do brilliant work.

Macdon is confident of
winning two out of three from Charleston.
Ryan was sick today and Boyle had to play first base. Following is the official
score:

AB. R. H. P. O. A. E.	AB. R. H. P. O. A. E.
McFarland, cf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Hoover, c	0 0 0 0 0 0
Joanes, 1b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Wolfe, rf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Pitt, 2b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Welch, lf	0 0 0 0 0 0
Bastian, ss	0 0 0 0 0 0
McLaughlin, 3b	0 0 0 0 0 0
Hill, p	0 0 0 0 0 0
Totals	33 1 5 24 18 2

Score by innings:
Macdon 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0
Atlanta 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Summary: Earned runs, Macdon 1, Atlanta
2. Three-base hits, Boland, Hill, Worelock.
Two-base hits, Ashenback, Wolfe. Sacrifices,
Bastian, Pitt. Struck out, by Hill 3, by
Keenan 1. Double plays, Gies to Holloman
and Boyle. Left fielder, Sullivan. Umpire,
McLaughlin. Time, 1:15. Total hits, Atlanta 11, Macdon 10. Time
of game, one hour and fifty minutes. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Nashville Beats New Orleans.
Nashville, Tenn., May 10.—In the first part
of the game Nashville found Baker,
and Haller's miff of a fly ball gave Nashville the first run. Nashville made two more in the third inning. After three runs were made, by timely hitting assisted by the Pelicans' critical errors, Nashville secured nine hits and two errors, while the Pelicans had ten hits and six errors. New Orleans made a glorious kick against Umpire
Hogan. Score:
Nashville.....010101020-7
New Orleans.....00000000-0
Base hits—Nashville 10; New Orleans 9.
Errors—Nashville 2; New Orleans 4. Batteries—Moran and Kinslow; Baker and Schabel.

Memphis Beats Mobile.
Memphis, Tenn., May 10.—In the second game of the Mobile-Memphis series, Memphis got on to Knoxville early in the game
and pounded him all over the field. The home team played a splendid game. Ken-edy's work at shortstop and Wadsworth
in the box being especially commendable.
With two men on bases, Wells, for Mobile,
pitched an excellent game throughout.
Time, Wadsworth's men guessing all the time. Wells' second base play was the feature. Score:
Memphis.....00000000-6
Mobile.....00000000-0
Base hits—Memphis 10; Mobile 7. Errors—
Memphis none; Mobile 2. Batteries—
Wadsworth and Boland; Knorr, Trost and Wells.

The Leaders Win.
Charleston, S. C., May 10.—Savannah lost
its game through the wisdom of Duke.
Peppler was substituted in the fourth inning and pitched a fine game. Blackburn
pitched an excellent game throughout.
Time, Wadsworth's men guessing all the time. Wells' second base play was the feature. Score:
Charleston.....00000000-6
Savannah.....00000000-0
Base hits—Charleston 6; Savannah 4. Batteries—Blackburn and Field; Duke, Peppler
and Jantzen.

Two Games at Grand Park.
There will be two games of ball at Grand park today. The picnic from Clayton will bring up a team to play a picked nine from Marshall's team.
The other game will be between The Con-

Dr. J. Harvey Moore,
Specialist in all diseases

$389.62

CONSUMED

In

Two

Days

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

FOR

Express

Charges!

The train above is not an exact reproduction, but represents the number of cars used to haul Our Immense Stock in Two Days.

Ask the Southern Express Company if We Have Exaggerated Our Statement.

We advertised we would sell 1,000 ALL-WOOL BLACK CHEVIOT SUITS, WORTH $12, AT $5. Ask the populace if we have exaggerated our statement. We needed more Suits—wanted them at once—and freight was too slow for us.

1,000 MORE ALL-WOOL BLACK CHEVIOT SUITS, WORTH $12, BUT WE WILL AT $5

have arrived. We open them today. Among other good things we received by Express, and now ready for your inspection, are

EIGHTY-TWO OTHER STYLES OF SCOTCH CHEVIOT SUITS, WORTH $12, AT $5.

Also 300 Black Clay Worsteds (sacks, frocks and regents), worth $15 and $20, Our Price $6.90 and $8.50.

HERE ARE OTHER STARTLERS—MEN'S PANTS, for instance, Special Sale beginning today: Pants at 49c, worth $2, Pants at $1, worth $3.50; Pants at $2, worth $5. We make no rash promises. CHILDREN'S SUITS, another new lot. They begin at 50c per suit, then $1.65, $1.98 and $2.50. Children's Knee Pants at 10c. We exaggerate nothing.

NOW FOR THE LADIES' SPECIAL SHOE SALE. Ladies' hand-turned Dongola Shoes, worth $2.50, our price $1.59. A Carmencita Oxford Shoe at $2, worth $3.50. A lovely Oxford Tie, worth $1.50, our price 65c. Don't forget to ask for your Souvenir. MEN'S SHOES—Gents' fine Kid Oxfords, regular price $2, our price 75c. Gents' hand-sewed Bal and Congress Shoe, well worth $5, our price $2.98. Specials for the Misses, Children and Infants—Straw Hats at 38c, worth $1. Straw Hats at 49c, worth $1.50. 100 dozen Gents' Negligee Shirts at 48c, worth $1. We have learned your wants, and are now ready to have you call. We shall make the greatest price record Friday and Saturday that was ever heard of in this country. We try and keep ample force to attend your wants, and have daily added more, knowing you will appreciate our many specials. We have made arrangements to wait on each and every customer. No matter though it be for a 5c article, we gladly appreciate your patronage.

WE WILL HAVE AN EXTRA SPECIAL MARK-DOWN SALE FOR SATURDAY.

THE GLOBE SHOE AND CLOTHING COMPANY.

89 WHITEHALL STREET. TELEPHONE 431.

A DONNYBROOK FAIR.

Hibernians Decide to Hold a Jolly Picnic with Various Trimmings.

GOOD OLD IRISH GAMES TO BE PLAYED, These Will Be Dashed with American Sports—Rifles of a Musical Turn Will Have a Club.

The Hibernian Rifles' Association field an important meeting last night. The attendance was not large, but considerable important business was transacted.

It was a special meeting held in accordance with a call issued by President Blount. The special business mentioned in the call was to arrange for a picnic and to organize a musical club.

Inaugural steps were taken to assure the successful success of each of these enterprises.

It was decided by those present at the meeting that a picnic should be given week after next. The place was not decided upon as it was deemed best to make overtures to the railroad before coming to a final decision as to the location of the festival.

The outline of a programme was arranged. It was determined that a majority of the games and sports should be of a purely Irish character. It was decided that the members of the association, Larry Conner, chairman; Joseph Gattins, Jack Hastings, John Malone, John O'Neill, P. G. Keeney, J. J. Bloomfield, James Gillepie, J. H. Gardner and T. J. Ryan.

This committee will be in charge of all the Hibernian societies of the city in making preparations for this the first annual picnic of the Hibernian Rifles' Association.

The Musical Club. Steps were also taken at the meeting last night to organize a musical club.

Mr. A. A. Weisenfeld was elected musical director of the club, to have exclusive jurisdiction over it.

The club will be devoted to vocal music exclusively at present.

Nozzles and High Art. In the brief time between erection of the walls of the Columbian fair and the admission of the exhibits, it became necessary to paint the walls and ceilings.

These arose the insuperable difficulty. To perform this task would require the services of such battalions of painters as could not be secured, and would entail, furthermore, an appalling expense.

searching into every crack, corner and crevice. The compressed hot air forced into the hose, draws after it a full head of paint, is regulated by valves. The painter may work at long or short range, his only care being to direct the nozzle towards the surfaces to be tinted. The operation is not unlike the spraying of a lawn on summer evening. Thus the many acres of unsightly planks, iron work and rough staff were covered with delicate tints, almost as if by magic.

Few people realize how many great inventions were suggested by the necessities of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

The Constitution's rich popular edition of this masterpiece of art and literature has been prepared by Directors Burnham and Millet, expressly for our use, and is now offered at a very low price to our readers.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

Among the many surprises of the fair, hardly anything surpassed Millet's original device of the fair, and some even of these have been eccentrically misrepresented. Everything is set clear now, however, in the "Book of the Builders," that incomparable illustrated work in which the great chiefs of the fair tell their own stories, with accuracy, vividness and enchanting interest.

NEWS OF SOCIETY.

Happenings of Interest to the People of Atlanta and Georgia.

NOTES ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

Some Events of the Future—Gossip About Social Events and Matters Pertaining Thereto.

The following quaint and pretty invitation to the colonial ball has been issued by the Atlanta chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution:

A BALL Under the Auspices of the ATLANTA CHAPTER of the DAUGHTERS of the AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

On Friday Night, the 18th day of May, in the Year of our Lord, MDCCCXCIV.

Ye lach fringes of ye doors will be hung out one hour after ye candle light, which is 8 by ye clock.

There will be served a collation craftily and wholesomely made, and thereafter ye Dancings of ye Minuet, very pleasant and full of past-time.

Ye, for whose hands these presents are intended are most gratefully invited to honour ye Assembly with your Company.

Kindly notify ye Ladies of ye Committee of your acceptance of ye invitation.

All persons receiving these invitations to the colonial ball may obtain tickets from Mr. C. W. Crankshaw. Tickets are $5, admitting two persons. The number of tickets is limited. No persons can buy tickets except those who have been invited.

No ladies or gentlemen will be admitted to the floor except in evening dress, with powdered hair. Those wishing to attend as spectators may find seats in the balcony—tickets same price as for floor.

Ladies or gentlemen desiring to attend as historical characters are urged to leave their names at once with the "Committee," care of Mrs. J. Y. Sage, Kimball.

himself an enviable reputation in the mercantile world, and has won for himself the respect and confidence of all who know him.

This evening at the home of Mrs. R. A. Howell in West End a affair will be held for the benefit of Park Street church. The ladies have made elaborate preparations for this bazaar and it will doubtless be successful.

Miss Bert Coleman, of Harrodsburg, Ky., is visiting Miss Roberta Douglas.

The annual picnic of the "G. R. P." Club occurs at Maddox park on the Atlanta and Florida railroad on Friday, May 18th, having been postponed from Wednesday, May 16th.

At the residence of the bride's mother in Edgewood yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock Miss Helena Williams was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Eugene Besson, of Montgomery, Ala.

The ceremony was impressively beautiful and was characterized by its modest simplicity. The bride is a young lady of attractive person, with many graces, both of heart and mind. She has many friends in Atlanta, by all of whom she is greatly beloved. Mr. Besson is a young business man of exceptional qualifications and is highly esteemed. The young couple received many congratulations after the ceremony.

SCRATCH PAD LEAVES Torn from the Notebooks of Constitution Reporters.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH.—The recent issues of The Electrical World and The Electrical Engineer contain graphic descriptions of the new headquarters of the Postal Telegraph Company in New York, the great building of the company being located at the corner of Broadway and Murray street.

The new building is fourteen stories high, and is one of the most magnificent of the modern buildings in New York. It is specially constructed for the use of the new apparatus, conveniences, etc., in these two electrical reviews make very interesting reading. The completion of the new Postal Telegraph building is in keeping with the spirit of enterprise manifested by the Postal company everywhere. Wherever it establishes itself it manifests that spirit of enterprise and of push which has been its characteristic from its foundation.

RAILROAD ENTERTAINMENT.—An entertainment will be given at the rooms of the railroad department of the Young Men's Christian Association, 42½ Wall street, tonight at 7:45 o'clock. The following programme will be presented:

Music—Mr. T. D. Bell's orchestra. Select reading—Miss Lorena Passmore. Vocal solo—Mr. Frank Pearson, Mr. Charles Price, accompanist.

Refractions—Prof. B. C. Davis. Recitation—Miss Passmore. Postlude—Orchestra.

Refreshments—Sociability. Admission is free, but will be by ticket. Tickets have been distributed to the entire membership and they are for free distribution to railroad men. Any railroad man can secure a ticket at the rooms or of members of the committee.

served and the occasion promises to be one of rare pleasure. All Kappa Alphas are cordially invited to be present.

OGLESBY GROCERY COMPANY.—In another column of today's issue appears a notice of application to amend its charter by changing the name of Oglesby & Meador Grocery Company to Oglesby Grocery Company; also the announcement that has been mailed to the customers of the house, Mr. T. D. Meador retires from the grocery trade to become connected with another line of business, and carries with him the best wishes of the firm and his friends generally for the continued success he so well merits.

The Oglesby Grocery Company, who continue the business, is one of the largest as well as one of our oldest wholesale grocery houses. Mr. Oglesby has been continuously engaged in the wholesale grocery trade in this city over twenty-five years, and besides having established a strong and prosperous business, he is one of our most prominent and esteemed citizens, and his business associates, all of whom have been connected with the house many years, are gentlemen who are held in the very highest regard throughout the territory of Atlanta's trade.

THE NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY.—Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock the North Carolina Society will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Hibernian Rifles' hall at 57½ East Hunter street. This is to be the last meeting before the banquet which occurs on May 15th.

AN APPEAL FOR FUNDS.—The Hebrew Orphans' Home must be enlarged and the management will need funds for the necessary improvements. This institution deserves support and contributions from charitably inclined people will be thankfully received.

CAPTAIN MANLY BETTER.—Captain P. Manly, who has been quite ill at his home in this city for the last two weeks, is now convalescent. He will leave in a day or two for the springs.

TO BUILD A CHURCH.—The members of the Jackson Hill mission have had the building of a church under consideration for several weeks. The mission has been growing steadily since the time of its organization and a thriving church will no doubt be the outgrowth of it.

LITTLE HOPE IS LEFT.—The friends of Captain E. F. Couch, who have kindly inquired after him during his illness, have very little hope of his recovery. He is now lying extremely low at his home in this city.

IN SESSION YESTERDAY.—The Ancient Order of United Workmen held an interesting session yesterday. A number of important questions were discussed and several good speeches were made. The delegates will leave for their several homes today.

THE CREMATORY.—The board of health has selected as the site for the crematory the dumping grounds, but before further steps are taken the general council will be called upon to endorse the selection.

THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—The board of aldermen met yesterday in regular session. Only routine business was transacted.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething gives quiet, helpful rest. 25 cents a bottle.

THE SATURDAY NIGHT CLUB. An Interesting Debate Next Saturday Night.

THE WILLING WORKERS. They Give an Entertainment Tonight at the Home of Captain Howell.

The Willing Workers of the Christian church will give a charming entertainment tonight at the home of Captain Evan P. Howell on Gordon street, West End.

There will be quite an elaborate programme, and after this is completed, refreshments will be served at a moderate charge. The proceeds will go to the Christian church.

Among the attractions on the programme Judge Andy Calhoun will deliver one of his original and humorous talks.

Mr. Frank L. Stanton will recite selections from his poems in his inimitable style. Mr. Julian Harris will read passages from Uncle Remus. Mr. Pigott will sing and Mrs. Carrie Mathews Moore will give selections on the piano.

The programme is one of the best that has been given in Atlanta this season, and all who go may be assured in advance of a rare treat. When the programme is completed, refreshments, including ice cream, cake and fruit, will be served.

There will be no charge at admission and everybody will be welcome.

POLICE COURT PARAGRAPHS. The cases against the negroes arrested last Sunday afternoon for drinking in their clubrooms were dismissed by Judge Calhoun yesterday. The charge against the manager, however—that of selling whisky without license—will be investigated tomorrow afternoon.

Chief A. B. Connolly, who is now in St. Louis, Mo., attending the National Union of Police and Marshals, will reach the city next Sunday afternoon.

GOING AWAY THIS SUMMER! Where Are You Going?

The summer migration will soon begin. "Resort" literature, railway time tables, and miscellaneous information as to the "best" place to spend the summer are much sought after. Do you really want to know which is the best place to go to your door at your door, west, but right here at your door at your door, miles of weary traveling over dusty highways, weary, possible discomfort at the end of the journey, overcrowding, ill feeding and an abundance of everything except comfort, and a thriving church will no doubt be the outgrowth of it.

SWANNAH SPRINGS COMPANY. They are now on the rampage. An ounce of good exterminator used now will be worth a hundred dollars used later on. Jacobus Bed Bug Killer will destroy them root and branch. It is used by all the principal hotels and by far the best. It never fails. Price, 15c and 25c. Sent by mail on application, at Jacobus Pharmacy, 13 Marietta street, old capitol building, and a few doors west of old stand.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. World's Fair Highest Medal and Diploma.

LOYAL

Proud People

THEY HAD

St. Augustine and all

St. August

The seven b

League of t through con

eighty or m

After they flowers by M

Annie Mich

de Leon, the sino with its old fort an beaches. Th band accom

and enliven

seashore the

ing and a t

ocean breez

a revelation perature of warmer tha

can remain without fee

a stay in t

Perry, of N

years a mos

in the new ropolis, wa

surf and it boys got hi

of Mr. Flus

siduous in companion

the baths a answering a and clearly gustine sp

ing spot wh

trip to the Cockerill, "

one bit! Th

the people

tals that I

This was t

the Ancient had spent a ago in comp

and she ha

what for t

Leon and t

place. "I m

"and see t

revelation

this countr

some time

Though o

dent Farr

the person

ardson, the time both and every praise of t

Wit

Jackson

"There is

Atlanta of said Colon

League of bound tra

He was

ROYAL TO ATLANTA.

Press People Say That It Is a Gift Place.

THEY HAD EVERYTHING UP HERE.

St. Augustine Interested Them, of Course, and all of the Visitors Hope to Go Back.

St. Augustine, Fla., May 10.—(Special.)—The seven hours spent here last Friday by the excursionists of the International League of Press Clubs were hours of thorough enjoyment to all of the party of eighty or more bright men and women. After they had all been presented with flowers by Mr. James A. McGuire and Miss Annie McKel in the returns of the Ponce de Leon, they took in the Alcazar, the Casino with its pool and wonderful baths, the old fort and last and best of all, the seashore. The Fifth United States Infantry band accompanied the party on the steamer and enlivened it not a little; and at the seashore there was dancing, bathing, shooting and a thorough enjoyment of the cool ocean breeze. The bathing in the surf was a revelation to the northerners, the temperature of the water being fully 6 degrees warmer than that of the atmosphere. One can remain in the surf here for an hour without feeling the bad effects of so long a stay in the salt water at the north. Dr. Perry, of New York, who was for many years a most popular teacher of "Hulnutt" in the newspaper quarter of the great metropolis, was particularly in love with the surf and it was with difficulty that the boys got him out of it.

Mr. J. E. Ingham, the financial agent of Mr. Flagler in Florida, was most assiduous in his attention to the visitors, accompanying them in person to the hotels, the baths and the Memorial church and answering all their questions good naturedly and clearly. The press gang voted St. Augustine the most picturesque and interesting spot which they had visited upon this trip to the south—"but," added Colonel Cockerill, "we don't go back on Atlanta one bit!" The earth was ours up there, and the people the most gift-edged set of mortals that I ever encountered in my life!"

This was Murat Halstead's first visit to the Ancient City, although Mrs. Halstead had spent a winter here two or three years ago in company with some continental friends, and she had prepared the colonel somewhat for the splendors of the Ponce de Leon and the picturesque beauties of the place. "I must come here again," he said, "and see this town and its surroundings."

Will Have a Good Effect.
Jacksonville, Fla., May 10.—(Special.)—"There is one result of this meeting in Atlanta of which we should all be proud," said Colonel Cockerill, of the International League of Press Clubs, when their north-bound train passed through.

He was talking to the Florida representative of the Constitution and he referred to the press boys about him to bear him out in his statement. "It has aroused a wonderful interest in our organization, and this will lead directly to the forming of representative press clubs in every stable city in the south. It would not surprise me in the least if there should be twenty applications from the south for membership in the league within the next year. Jacksonville, with four flourishing daily newspapers, and I don't know how many weeklies, and with four flourishing press clubs, and it will be of innumerable benefit to them to get into the league at once. The great result of this meeting will be expected in this direction. I am done."

A HUMAN OSTRICH DEAD.

Owen Williams, of London, Used to Swallow Plates and Tin Pails.

London, May 8.—A man named Owen Williams, a nomad well-known in the east end of London, has been dying for several years of his haunts and will amuse no longer the frequenters of public houses to whose taste for the marvelous he preferred to find a victim, rather than work for an honest livelihood.

It was his custom to enter a hostelry, profess to be very hungry, ask for something to eat and then offer for a few coppers to amuse the company by devouring a plate, saucer, a clay pipe or anything else they liked. Invariably somebody was foolish enough to give him money and Owens at once faithfully carried out his promise.

Sometimes, after consuming bread, cheese and pickles, he ate the plate on which it had been served, and the deputy of a lodging house who he occasionally visited said that he once offered to drink a pail of water and afterward eat the bucket for the moderate sum of one shilling.

When he died from indigestion the doctors of the London hospital encountered as much difficulty in making a meal of him as he did in sawing a piece of wood full of nails. And no wonder, for after much labor they succeeded in cutting a piece of string eighteen inches long, with cords attached, and a piece of leather nine inches long, with holes at each end.

Just before his decease Owen told the doctor that among the things he used to swallow for a livelihood were tin snuffers, purses, French coins, hairpins, pipestems, newspapers and anything which was offered.

YELL! YELL! EVERYBODY YELL!!

Sweetwater, Sweetwater Park Hotel
The coming season at Lithia Springs, Ga., promises to be a very successful one. Under new management, the hotel has been secured at our office opposite Aragon Hotel, Telephone 1068. H. T. Blake, Prop., John H. Louch, Agt.

Atlanta, Ga., May 9, 1894.—The firm of Marsh & Smith, by reason of the death of E. W. Marsh, has been dissolved. E. W. Marsh, who was a partner in the firm, has been succeeded by Hugh T. Inman and John A. Smith, who will continue the business in all of its branches will be continued by Inman, Smith & Co.

JNO. A. SMITH,
HUGH T. INMAN, Special.

From the above announcement it will be seen that I have sold out my interest in the old firm of Marsh & Smith to Inman, Smith & Co., my junior partners in business. In retiring from business I return my grateful thanks to my many friends who have manifested their partiality in the past by the liberal manner in which they have patronized the business.

I have been associated in this city for over a quarter of a century, and I have been able to can with confidence recommend them to the trade as men of the highest integrity, who know only how to deal justly with their customers on a large scale. I trust, therefore, the new firm may retain the friends of the old house, besides adding largely to their list many new ones.

Atlanta, Ga., May 9, 1894.—As successors to Marsh & Smith we hope to merit the same liberal patronage which has been given our predecessors. With ample facilities for doing business, we feel that we can offer the trade unsurpassed inducements. Those who have heretofore been associated with the firm of Marsh & Smith and contributed to its success will add strength to the new firm by their continued connection with it, and we bespeak for them liberal patronage.

JOHN A. SMITH,
HENRY C. LEONARD.

may10-11

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

World's Fair Highest Award.

"A little higher in Price—but."
We invite Housekeepers to insist upon being supplied with the

"FERRIS" BRAND.

Sold by the Better Grocers.

No. 1559.
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Atlanta National Bank,

At Atlanta, in the state of Georgia, at the close of business, May 4, 1894.

RESOURCES:	LIABILITIES:
Loans and discounts.....$ 991,988 76	Capital stock paid in.....$ 150,000 00
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured.....19,359 00	Surplus fund.....50,000 00
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation.....150,000 00	Undivided profits, less expenses.....208,327 07
U. S. Bonds to secure U. S. deposits.....50,000 00	National bank notes outstanding.....115,000 00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds.....16,125 00	Due to other national banks.....37,423 27
Stocks, securities, etc.....138,252 50	Due to state banks and bankers.....41,821 94
Banking house, furniture and fixtures.....90,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....1,298,264 64
Other real estate and mortgages owned.....13,858 50	Demand certificates of deposit.....42,727 72
Due from national banks (not reserve agents).....71,296 28	Cashier's checks outstanding.....2,831 07
Due from state banks and bankers.....32,724 97	Deposits of U. S. disbursing officers.....22,033 53
Due from approved reserve agents.....127,008 81
Checks and other cash items.....204 80
Exchanges for clearing houses.....24,844 00
Notes of other national banks.....11,635 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents.....3,306 46
Lawful Money Reserve in Bank, viz:
Specie.....$151,888 80
Legal tender notes.....105,200 00—257,088 80
Redemption fund with U. S. treasurer, 3 per cent of circulation.....6,750 00
Due from U. S. treasurer, other than 5 per cent redemption fund.....4,345 00
Total.....$2,049,676 63	Total.....$2,049,676 63

STATE OF GEORGIA, COUNTY OF FULTON, SS:
I, C. E. CURRIER, cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of May, 1894, at Atlanta, Ga.
JAMES GILLESPIE, Notary Public, Fulton County, Ga.
A. E. THORNTON, P. ROMARE, FRANK E. BLOCK, Directors.

SICK HEADACHE!

POSITIVELY CURED BY THESE LITTLE PILLS.
They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Constipation, Headache, Pain in the Side,
Griping, Purely Vegetable.
Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.
Beware of Imitations and Ask for CARTER'S
C-A-R-T-E-R'S.

They regulate the Bowels and prevent Constipation. Are free from all crude and irritating matter. Very small; easy to take; no pain; no griping. Purely Vegetable. Sugar coated.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

Beware of Imitations and Ask for CARTER'S C-A-R-T-E-R'S.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Cut out three of these coupons, and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

THE HIGHER OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Series No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.
Series No. 12.
Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

AMERICA PHOTOGRAPHED.

Alaska to the Gulf of Mexico.

Series No. 12.

Cut three of these coupons from The Constitution and bring or send them with five 2-cent stamps to Art Department, Constitution Office, and you will receive this beautiful book.

"LISTEN TO OUR TALE OF WOE."

We have just had a big fire in our store and thousands of dollars worth of goods were slightly damaged. Now we are compelled to sell our stock and, of course, at prices that are nominal.

Listen to This—

1. Entire lot of Men's Hand-sewed Shoes, have been reduced from $4 to $2.75
2. Finest Hand-sewed cork-soled Shoes, from $6 to $3.50
3. Men's Highest Grade of Russet Calf from $4 to $2.75
4. Men's finest French Calf, hand-sewed Shoes, bals and congress, from $7 to $5.00

Our entire lot of Shoes that were slightly injured by the water and fire will be sold this week at one-third their original values. Never before in the history of Atlanta have such bargains been offered. We now have ample force to wait on every one who calls.

Remember the sale is only for a few days.

J. C. &amp; I. DANIEL, 32 WHITEHALL ST.

Sam'l W. Goode, Attorney, Albert L. Beck, J. A. Reynolds.

GOODE, BECK & CO.'S WEST END AUCTION SALE, Tuesday, May 15th, 3:30 P. M. Eight Beautiful Lots.

Two Story, 7-Room Brick Residence, Corner Abbott Street and Seila Avenue. High Level and Choice.

There is no prettier property in West End than that we now offer for sale. It is elevated and level and surrounded by best of neighbors. Dr. Neils, just north; Dr. D. Smith on the west, and Dr. Connally and others just this side of it. Seila Avenue is a wide and prominent thoroughfare, and now has on it all city improvements. The electric line to Lithia Springs will go either Seila Avenue or 300 feet from the property on Greenberry Avenue. The Consolidated line is only one block distant on Ashby street. Examine the property and come to the sale to buy at your own figures. A new house going up in West End now than ever before in its history, and the outlook there was brighter. Terms, 10% cash, balance 6, 12, 18 and 24 months, with 5 per cent interest, payable annually.

GOODE, BECK & CO.

Ponce de Leon Avenue, Two Lots at Auction Thursday, May 17th, 4 P. M.

These lots are 105 feet west of Jackson street, and each fronts 50 feet on Ponce de Leon Avenue, and each is accessible in the rear by an alley. The depth of one lot is 150 feet, and of the other 203 feet. Both lots are elevated above the street about five feet, and they are nicely graded, with perfect shape. Water and gas mains and brick sewer and brick walks and paving all down and paid for, so that the lots are now ready for homes to be erected on them. They are at the intersection of two electric lines, giving quick schedules to and from business center, either via Ponce de Leon and Peachtree or by Jackson street and Edgewood Avenue. Many beautiful homes surround these lots, and it is claimed by many that Ponce de Leon Avenue rivals Peachtree in beauty already, while it is promised early improvements, which will make it even surpass Peachtree. The extension of the Jackson street line to Piedmont park is contemplated and the famous Ponce de Leon spring is quite near, so that families here will be very convenient to both the park and the spring by car line or by a pleasant afternoon or evening walk. The terms of sale are one-half cash, the remainder April 1, 1897, with 8 per cent interest, payable semi-annually.

Plats will soon be ready, and you are invited to inspect these lots and prepare to secure the best of these choice sites for permanent homes. The sale will be to the highest bidder fairly and without reserve.

GOODE, BECK & CO., Agents.

Corner Peachtree and Marietta.

FOR SALE.

New residence, corner West Peachtree and North Avenue, 11 large rooms—all modern conveniences—will take other property in part exchange.

A. C. BRISCOE, Capitalist.

G. W. ADAIR, FORREST ADAIR.

G. W. ADAIR, Real Estate

No. 14 Wall St., Kimball House.

A lady customer of mine wants to buy a home. She has

Sixteen Hundred Dollars

in bank and wants the very best bargain that can be had for the cash. A nice cottage on or near street car line, in good neighborhood will fill the bill. Come at once and see me.

G. W. ADAIR.

Take the Decatur electric line for Union Square, only a few minutes ride from the center of the city. There you will see unsurpassed building sites. Every lot well shaded with beautiful trees. Art and nature combined have made Union Square the most delightful suburb of Atlanta. Now is the time to buy and build. Write or call at office of the Union Square Land Company, 40 Marietta street.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Bring or send three coupons with 10c and one part of this book will be delivered or sent you post age prepa d.

THE CENTURY WAR BOOK.

Series No. 1.

Something to Think About.

Did you ever notice one fact-of-verything that we individually know most about? We want the best. The best location is none too good for the retailer who gets there. The best tea is none too good for the tea merchant's private use. The best securities are what the banker buys for himself. Butchers do not eat cheap meat. The stable man does not drive a poor horse, and builders do not build for themselves cheap houses. "Cheap" catches many men once, but it only catches fools the second time. Now in buying a watch, which is expected to run for a life-time and keep accurate time, don't allow yourself to be deceived by cheap machines. If you want a really good article, we keep them, and they are offered at the lowest prices consistent with good quality. J. P. Stevens & Bro., Jewelers, 47 Whitehall street.

take warning

Some dealers, greedy for profit, are refilling "Canadian club" bottles with inferior whisky—don't permit them to impose on you—pay the price and deserve honest treatment—see that you get it—or come to us.

bluthenthal "b & b." & bickart, b & b.

whiskies, whiskies, whiskies, at the bridge. 44 and 46 Marietta street. "old oscar pepper." "highland rye." "four aces" whisky.

FRANK POTTS,

HENRY POTTS,

JOSEPH THOMPSON.

The Potts-Thompson Liquor Co.

Importers and Wholesale Dealers.

Also, Distillers of Stone Mountain

Corn Whisky. Sole Agents for

I. DeTurk's Celebrated California

Wines. Agents for Acme Whisky and Budweiser Beer.

7, 9, 11, 13 Kimball House,

Decatur St., Atlanta, Ga.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habits cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B.M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga. Office 104 1/2 Whitehall St.

LIGHT, TENDER, DELICIOUS AND bread and pastry when made with "THE BEST" BAKING POWDER.

35c per lb., worth 50c. THE C. J. KAMPER GROCERY CO., Phone 638. 290 and 292 Peachtree St.

A. K. HAWKES, Manufacturing Optician

The only optical plant run by electric motor power in the state. All the latest inventions for testing eyesight; established twenty-three years. Headquarters for the United States, 12 Whitehall street.

LEADS THE WORLD.

Libbey's AMERICAN CUT GLASS.

Highest Award World's Fair.

If you want the finest quality cut glass, buy goods having this trade mark.

J. P. STEVENS & BRO., Exclusive agents for Atlanta.

april 6th and 7th

Gurney Refrigerator.

The Best Refrigerator Ever Offered to the Public.

Keyless Fly Fan

Only $2.

WIRE DISH COVERS. Something Everybody Needs.

Large Stock of Hammocks, GAS STOVES.

For Summer Use, Very Cheap. KING HARDWARE, 65 Peachtree.

april 21-4, ex sun.

See Eiseman & Weil's pants, all-wool, only $2.90.

For all Bowel Complaints use Royal Germetuer.

HOW ATLANTA GROWS

In Four Years the City Undergoes a Remarkable Change.

VISITORS HARDLY RECOGNIZE IT.

A Gentleman From Macon and That Atlanta Is Almost as Large as C. O. G. O. Real Estate Sales.

Atlanta real estate has been given a great advertisement this week of conventions in the Gate City.

The colonel took the Red Men, the conclave of Knights Templars and the meeting of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, all of which have been in session here, the entire business interest of Georgia have been centered in Atlanta during the last few days.

The time of the delegates to these various conventions of secret order men has not been entirely occupied by the business that primarily brought them here, and in the interim between their business sessions they have had no little time to go about the city and mark the changes that a little time has made in the Gate City.

Their comment was most favorable. As an incident:

Mr. Schoeneman, one of the oldest citizens of Macon, and Georgia, was talking to a Constitution man yesterday morning.

He had not visited Atlanta for over four years prior to his coming here to attend the Knights Templars' conclave. He was very enthusiastic concerning the progress Atlanta has made since he visited the city.

In fact, it was his enthusiasm on this score that first attracted the reporter to him. In all his American and European experience he had never seen such progress in a city's growth.

Mr. Schoeneman spent the early hours of last night in Atlanta with old-time acquaintances, and during the evening frequently referred to the growth of Atlanta within such a comparatively short period as four years.

Demand for business which he had to transact in the city compelled Colonel C. M. Wiley, ordinary of Bibb county, with residence in Macon, and who, incidentally, was elected captain general of the grand lodge of Knights Templars, to leave the barbeque at Iceville before the hour appointed for the departure of the regular train from the river to Atlanta.

The colonel took the electric car line. Cool breezes fanned his cheeks, and beautiful pastoral scenes charmed his eyes.

But after some time had elapsed the colonel grew restless.

"Look here," said he to the conductor, as that functionary was passing, "ain't we getting pretty near to the Kimball house?"

"'Bout third of the way, sir," replied the conductor.

Colonel Wiley settled down and looked out upon the landscape. The fleeting car flew past rows of neat cottages, factories, whose great chimneys threw out volumes of dense smoke, more rows of cottages and rows of stores.

The colonel again became uneasy.

"Say conductor," said he, summoning the man in charge of the cars to him, "I must have made some mistake and got on the wrong car line. I wanted to take the shortest cut to the Kimball house. I never intended to take any of your belt lines."

The colonel was assured that he was on the right car to reach the city quickest and he subsided.

"By gum!" he exclaimed as he got off the cars at the corner of Walton and Forsyth streets, "who'd thought this town was as big as Chicago!"

A great deal of good has been done for Atlanta real estate during the visit of the various organizations that have assembled within her gates during the past few days, and the impetus that has been given to trade in Atlanta really by the hospitable entertainment of these guests and the favorable impression they received of the city.

Sale at West Wood Park.

Owing to an error of a clerk in the office of W. M. Scott & Co., in not attending to the advertising notices properly, there was not a general understanding that there would be a sale. Yet there was a very fair attendance and the following sales were made:

Lot 111 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . $350

Lot 112 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 113 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 114 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 115 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 116 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 117 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 118 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 119 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 120 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 121 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 122 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 123 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 124 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 125 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 126 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 127 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 128 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 129 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 130 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 131 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 132 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 133 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 134 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 135 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 136 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 137 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 138 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 139 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 140 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 141 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 142 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 143 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 144 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 145 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 146 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 147 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Lot 148 to T. M. Bishop. . . . . 350

Sharper! Sharper! Sharper!

The demand for the Men's Suits selling at $12, $15 and $18—just as we supposed it would be, soon as it became known what was going on. Your own judgment will fix their value up to $25. It's not a handful merely to make an advertisement. No. There are large quantities, many styles, scores of colors, extreme and neat conservative patterns—just the Suits that nine out of ten buyers prefer. The present is the time for best choices and the time for use is right at hand. The prices are tempting beyond any past tendency. The revolving trade wheels will not again evolve such newness and brightness and marvelous cheapness.

Cad's Neck Co.

"A FAIR FACE MAY PROVE A POOR BAR GAIN." MARRY A PLAIN GIRL IF SHE USES

SAPOLIO

MONCRIEF, DOWMAN & CO.,

Manufacturers of Galvanized Iron Cornice, Metal Skylights, Tin and Slate Roofing.

Heavy Iron Work of every description. We do work anywhere in the adjoining states. Write for our catalogue and estimate on any kind of work in our line. 57 South Forsyth street. Phone 635.

Wrought Iron Pipe FITTINGS

—AND— BRASS GOODS

HEADQUARTERS FOR

SUPPLIES!

Of every description for Cotton and Woolen Mills, Oil Mills, Saw and Planing Mills, Railroads, Quarries, Machine Shops, etc. Send for list of new and second-hand Machinery.

THE BROWN & KING SUPPLY CO.

ATLANTA, GA.

NEW ACCIDENT POLICY

Double death or indemnity if killed or disabled on any conveyance provided by railroads, street cars or steamships. $5,000 death and $25 weekly, general accidents. $10,000 death and $50 weekly, travel accidents. Has other features as to loss of hands, feet or both eyes. The best accident policy for the least money. Clear, concise, liberal.

COSTS ONLY $25.00 PER YEAR.

This new policy is issued by The Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation of London, England. Cash assets in United States over ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

CLARENCE ANGIER, Gen'l Agent,

23 1/2 WHITEHALL ST., ATLANTA, GA.

GOODBY OLD TIMES!

PURIFINE

Is to medical discoveries as palaces as cars are to ox carts—a combination of all best and latest discoveries in medicine in one grand life-saving remedy. Best and cheapest Blood Purifier, Liver Stimulator, Kidney Restorer, Female Regulator, Malaria Extirminator in the world. No such remedy ever before discovered. Those who have used it are frantic with delight and jubilant in its praise. Only try it and you will use no other.

Agents wanted everywhere to introduce and sell this wonderful remedy. Old soldiers preferred. It must reach the homes of the people at once. Best of terms given. If it is not in your drug store nor agent at hand, address us direct. You must have it.

PURIFINE MEDICINE CO.,

Rooms 34 and 35 Old Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.

may 8-11 tues fri sun

BAILEY & CARROLL,

WHOLESALE

LIQUOR DEALERS,

43 PEACHTREE ST., ATLANTA, GA.

"We carry the largest stock of old Whiskies in the south. OUR GOODS ARE PURE, PRICES LOW."

WINGATE & MELL,

PLUMBERS,

Steam and Hot Water Heaters,

GAS FITTERS, TINNERS,

And Manufacturers of

GALVANIZED IRON CORNICE.

43 and 44 North Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. mar 27-29-31 sun to

Rare Bargains

China and Glassware

Slaughter sale of odd lots! Remnants must go regardless of cost! See these prices:

Decorated, real China Dinner Sets, $13.

Decorated real China Tea Sets, $5.

Gold band and decorated China Cups and Saucers, 25c each.

Gold band and decorated China Plates, per set, 72c.

White China Cups and Saucers, per set 75 cents.

Imported China Bedroom Sets, 10 pieces, $12.

Beautiful Game Sets, Fish Sets, Ice Cream Sets, Salad Bowls, Cake Plates, Fruit Stands, Pitchers, Tea Pots, Sugars, Odd Pieces. All reduced in same proportion.

Price no object!

Everything odd must go for what it will bring!

Come early and secure choice of bargains!

Dobbs, Wey & Co.

61 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.

Take a look at the same time at the celebrated Alaska Refrigerator! Best in the world!

Every

Dollar

Counts

When you make your selection from among our stock of Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

Every Suit which leaves our store carries with it a guarantee of style, wear, and value.

You can count on us for the right things in Men's, Boy's and Children's Clothing.

HIRSCH BROTHERS

44 Whitehall.

A. R. BUTCHER, President. S. W. BEACH, Secretary and Treasurer. J. A. G. BEACH, O. WINGATE, Vice President.

THE ATLANTA PLUMBING COMPANY

Phone 102. Contractors of Plumbing, Steam and Gas Fitting. 12 Loyd Street, Atlanta, Ga.

REMOVAL.

I have removed my office to No. 36 NORTH BROAD STREET near Elkin-Watson's Drug Store, where I will be pleased to have my friends and anyone in need of

COAL, COKE OR WOOD

to call.

R. O. CAMPBELL.

Yards Magnolia St. and E. T. V. & G. R. R. Telephone 394.

THE KING OF WALL PLASTERS!

ALUMINITE!

Come and examine this wonderful material and you will have your architect specify it. The Portland and verybest finishing and building

LIME Louisville cements, sewer pipe, drain pipe, stove flue, stove pipe, flue thimbles, fire brick, fire clay,

SCIPLE SONS,

plaster of paris and hair. —OFFICE, 8 LOYD STREET—

ATLANTA TRUNK FACTORY.

Trunks, Sample Cases, Ladies and Gents' Traveling Bags and Toilet Cases.

The latest novelties in Pocket Books, Card Cases, Collar and Cuff Boxes. A complete assortment of Tourist Outfits.

LIEBERMAN & KAUFMANN

Phone 571. 92 and 94 Whitehall St.

FOOTE'S TRUNK FACTORY,

17 E. Alabama Street.

Fifty cents on the dollar. We are closing out the stock of goods bought of Abe Foote & Bro.'s receiver at above prices. Will continue business, but must reduce our stock as we need money. Trunks, valises and everything in our line must go. Wholesale and retail. Trunk repairing a specialty. JEFF J. FOOTE, Manager.

THE TRIPOD PAINT CO.

56 and 58 Marietta St.

Pure Paints, Aurora Tinted Lead, Oils, Window Glass, etc. Complete line of Artists' Materials. april 25 1m

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE

OF GEORGIA.

FOR THE CURE OF LIQUOR, OPIUM, MORPHINE, COCAINE, TOBACCO and CIGARETTE HABITS.

Endorsed by the United States Government. For information address Keeley Institute, Correspondence strictly confidential. ATLANTA, GA. and AUGUSTA, GA.

GREAT PANIC SALE

Colonel Livingston has before the appropriation house for the Cotton State exposition committee. They will be given all to present the claims of and International exposition. If the Atlanta good talk, there doubt of their getting a friendly disposition toward and will do the square deal. In Colonel Mar. Colonel Livingston called printer this morning Colonel Mark Hardin, fat position in that department, received but little. There are fully one hundred every position in the Colonel Livingston has successful in getting students and he may demands that which be usually gets it.

Major Black, of the beginning to some treasury work in the hot all the appropriation bill where the expenses of the be reduced. Wednesday speech on the naval advocating the reduction of in this bill. He operation for a new torpedo minute speech, which he He believed while the government are running be made.

Gold Reserve Keen The gold reserve in the ly decreasing. It has al to $22,000,000 and the pro will continue to fall. As there is a well organized York which is buying of treasury with greenback rates in order to get the low that another issue of essay.

Secretary Carlisle refus stage of his right to recent rates in either gold or al them exclusively in gold, the national bankers want

P. H. SNOOK & SON.

Of Fine Furniture, beginning Monday morn ap. This suit, white and gold, French enamel, fine India brocade, only $36.00; the cheapest suit on earth!

$50,000.00

Parlor, Chamber and Dining Room Furniture, Mattresses, Wardrobes, Chiffoniers, Couches, Easy Chairs. $300 solid oak Hotel Suits, with spring beds, mattresses and bedding, at half price. Everything must be sold.

P. H. SNOOK & SON.